No Strike, Reuther Says

Chrysler - Union Bargaining Talks Are Broken Off

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union failed today to reach contract agreement in a 20-hour marathon bargaining session in which the company charged the union's demands were unreasonable.

Both Chrysler and UAW officials appeared bitter when they emerged from the conference room at the Chrysler personnel headquarters shortly after 6 a.m.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther had told Chrysler it must settle by noon today or "be put on the back burner" while he turned his entire attention to General Motors negotiations.

"It would be useless to stay here and talk until the noon deadline for we are not even close to an agreement," Reuther said early this morning. "I am greatly disappointed in Chrysler's failure to bargain with us on the contract, but we have no intentions now of calling a strike and we still hope we can settle with Chrysler without a strike."

John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president, termed the breakoff in the negotiations needless and accused the union of "trying to whipsaw Chrysler into accepting terms that are neither sound nor equitable."

Reuther said he might return to Chrysler for resumption oft alks Thursday morning. He was asked if that meant the UAW was going to extend its noon deadline ultimatum or serve Chrysler with another deadline notice. "We have not made any such plans," he replied.

Reuther said he would join General Motors negotiations. Asked if this meant Chrysler is "now on the back burner," Reuther said it did.

The breakoff in the Chrysler-UAW talks came as a surprise. There had been numerous reports indicating an agreement was near.

Ford and the UAW reached contract agreement last Wednesday after a seven-hour strike affecting 98,000 Ford workers. GM and Chrysler subsequently offered to the UAW three-year contracts similar to the Ford pact.

The UAW has been operating at the Big Three without contracts since the old three-year pacts ran out Memorial Day weekend.

UN Rejects Red China Voice Issue

U.S. May Have Won Last Battle Against Seating Of Chinese

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Diplomats speculated today that the United States may have succeeded for the last time in sweeping aside a U.N. discussion of the Red China seating issue.

The U.S. proposal to sidetrack the thorny question for another year cleared the General Assembly 44-28 with 9 abstentions. It was the narrowest margin of victory on record for opponents of the move to seat the Chinese Communists in the United Nations.

The Assembly vote automatically canceled India's request that the Assembly stage a full debate on the question.

In contrast to previous years, the United States kept officially silent on the outcome. The American view was understood to be that the vote was satisfactory but no cause for rejoicing.

The United States, which battled almost singlehandedly for its proposal, managed to hold the support of slightly more than 54 per cent of the U.N. members. Without the solid backing of the 20-nation Latin-American block, it could have lost.

In 1954, when the United States first used the tactics of postponing debate on China for that session, the Americans got 71.6 per cent of the vote. In 1955 support dropped to 70 per cent and in 1956-57, to a little more than 59 per cent.

Word circulated that the United States got only perfunctory support from many of its friends who felt an issue involving representation of 600 million people should at least be discussed before the world forum.

Britain, Canada and New Zealand were the only nations who spoke in favor of the U.S. position.

Advance Gifts Solicitation Opens In Annual Community Fund Drive

The 1958-59 Community Fund campaign was launched officially today with the "kickoff" by the Advance Gifts Division.

The division is headed by Robert E. Boyce, with John Thompson, Alwyn C. Purinton Jr. and William F. Porter vice chairmen. Advance Gifts committeemen include J. Donald Thompson, James W. Batey Jr., J. M. Wells Jr., William B. Laughlin, Dean M. Wilhelm, Arthur Doak, John Pinney, Joseph Ross, Charles D. Taylor, Glenn Wilson, William H. Smith, W. D. Christopher, R. V. Beatty and T. Fred Edwards.

Members of the committee will contact business establishments and industrial plants in the area as their part in the $83,173 campaign.

Prior to the kickoff by the division, a top-level meeting was held by key personnel of the concerns, clearing the way for increased participation in the campaign on the part of both industry and the employes.

The campaign this year does not include residential solicitation, Standley T. Hilbert, chairman, said, but explained "that every employed person in the area will be asked to consider one hour's pay per month as his fair share through payroll deduction."

Hilbert said the goal of $83,173 still would provide the six agencies benefitting from the drive some $13,000 less than a full program requires. He continued:

"The success of the 1958-59 Community Fund campaign is a must if the district is to avoid going back to the old method of six independent drives a year. Approximately 90 per cent of the area takes advantage of the programs or facilities of one or more of the agencies."

Again participating in the fund are the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Recreational Council and the USO.

100 Of Communist Planes Tangle With 32 Chiang Fighters

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists said they shot down 11 Communist MIG jet fighters today in a giant air battle over Formosa Strait.

More than 100 Chinese Communist planes tangled with 32 Nationalist jets in the largest aerial clash yet reported in the month-old Quemoy crisis, a Nationalist Defense Ministry spokesman said.

In addition to 11 MIGs downed, six possible kills were reported. All Nationalist planes returned safely from the 10-minute morning battle, the spokesman added.

The location of the swirling conflict was not fixed by the spokesman. Earlier reports said it occurred near the Matsu Islands, about 150 miles northeast of the Quemoy group and 100 miles northwest of Formosa.

In the three previous air battles since the Communists began bombarding the Quemoys Aug. 23, the Nationalists have claimed 14 MIGs shot down and three damaged. None of their own American-built planes, flown by American-trained pilots, have been lost, the Nationalists say.

The bombardment continued today with 1,026 shells hitting the Quemoys from midnight to 10 a.m., the ministry said.

None of the shells was hitting the supply beach or landing strip when a planeload of foreign and Chinese newsmen landed on Quemoy, AP correspondent Forrest Edwards reported. He said his group of 22 foreign correspondents and 10 Chinese reporters heard distant explosions.

The group was the first to reach Quemoy since Nationalist authorities lifted an eight-day ban on newsmen there. Nationalists and U.S. authorities said the ban was for military reasons but never explained it further.

The commander in chief of U.S. forces in the Pacific said the supply situation "is getting better every day." Before leaving for Okinawa and Hawaii after three days of top-level military meetings, Adm., Harry D. Felt added, "I am not overly optimistic, but not discouraged."

Felt said the United States is helping supply Quemoy "to the greatest extent possible." Further U.S. help is a political question he could not answer, the admiral added.

Jobless Man Slays Four Of His Children

5th Escapes When He Plays Dead; Wife Suffers Injuries

SPARTA, Mich. (AP)—An unemployed odd jobs worker blasted four of his five children to death with a shotgun Tuesday night. The fifth escaped by playing dead.

His estranged wife, Edith McMillan, 36, who suffered neck injuries, and the fifth child were under hospital treatment in nearby Grand Rapids.

Orland Duncan McMillan, 45, told Sheriff Arnold Pigorsh: "I can only take so much. I got shot up in the war and my nerves act up."

Found dead in their home, 15 miles northwest of Grand Rapids, were McMillan's children, Ronald, 7; Bonnie, 6; Richard, 22 months; and Micheal Yvonne, 10 months.

The fifth child, 8-year-old Orland Benjamin, suffered a head cut. Dep. Sheriff Eli Roberts, first on the scene in answer to a routine family argument call, said he found the boy sitting up in a blood-spattered bed.

"Hey, cops! Daddy did this. I played dead. He thought he killed me, too," the boy said.

Prosecutor Stuart Hoffius said the boy told of witnessing two of the deaths. He said his father placed the shotgun against the children's heads as they slept, and fired.

McMillan was found in his battered 1950 auto about a quarter of a mile from the home. Roberts, along with state police and Sparta officers, said he offered no resistance.

McMillan and his wife were wed twice. They remarried in 1950 after divorcing in 1946. Recently Mrs. McMillan filed suit for separate maintenance.

Mrs. McMillan told police her husband broke through a screen door Tuesday night and attacked her. She said she ran to a neighbor to call for police help and waited there until Roberts arrived.

Mrs. McMillan told police her husband was incensed over her plans to move to Chicago with the children.

Sheriff Pigorsh said McMillan will be formally charged later.

South Faces Court Test On School Plans

May Change Public Schools To Private In Integration Fight

By The Associated Press

Southern plans to maintain segregation by changing public schools to private status face an early test in federal court.

The Little Rock School Board asked U.S. District Court Tuesday to say whether the board can legally permit a corporation to lease four high school buildings in the Arkansas capital.

A segregationist spokesman criticized the move as unnecessary. Amis Guthridge, a Little Rock Citizens Council leader, also said the board "is more interested in seeing the mixing of the races in our schools than seeing them operate."

The board asked the court for a quick answer. It said it is willing to lease the school buildings if the court will insure the board against contempt action.

Several Southern states besides Arkansas have private school plans as anti-integration weapons.

Six white secondary schools in Norfolk, Va., faced a gubernatorial shutdown order in the wake of a federal judge's refusal Tuesday to permit any further delay in their integration.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. said he would probably order them closed after conferring with Norfolk city officials. About 10,000 students would be affected, more than three times the enrollment at Front Royal and Charlottesville, where the governor has closed three schools under Virginia's massive resistance laws.

Southern governors, concluding their annual conference at Lexington, Ky., were expected to debate a states' rights resolution.

Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee said he might offer a resolution reaffirming states rights and responsibilities. And Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, an outspoken segregation advocate, said the 16-state conference should resolve to

Convicted Murderer Asks New Beaver Trial

Atty. A. G. Helbling and Atty. Charles M. Barrickman, counsel for Arthur G. Schuck, who was convicted Friday of the first degree murder of Vincent J. Quigley, filed a motion Tuesday afternoon in Beaver County Courts for a new trial.

Schuck's attorneys held the verdict was against the law, contrary to the weight of evidence and that Judge Morgan H. Sohn had erred in refusing to charge the jury on certain points as requested by the defense.

They also reserved the right to file additional specific reasons in support of the motion within 30 days after the trial testimony has been transcribed by the court stenographer.

The motion will delay sentencing of the Baden machinist, who faces the death penalty. He was tried only for the murder of Quigley, but he also killed William Engel, 44, of Ambridge in the ambush the night of April 27.

By midmorning official sources said six persons had been killed and a score wounded.

Under ex-President Camille Chamoun, a pro-Westerner, it was Moslems who sparked unrest and manned roadblocks. Today it was members of the Phalange—an extremist Christian party that was causing a bloody ruckus.

Choice 'Deep Secret'

Ike Ready To Fill Adams' Vacancy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported preparing today to name an above-reproach successor to Sherman Adams as his chief White House assistant.

But even Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn, who played an active role in events leading to Adams' decision to retire, said he hasn't a glimmering of the presidential choice.

As an indication of how closely Eisenhower was guarding his decision, Secretary of the Interior Seaton said in Vallejo, Calif., he doesn't know whether he is being considered for the job.

"The matter of who succeeds to the post of presidential assistant is a particularly personal one with President Eisenhower," Seaton told a news conference Tuesday night.

Seaton, a former senator, left the Harold E. Stassen camp at a critical point to support Eisenhower's bid for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952. He is by all odds the choice of congressional Republicans for the job Adams is leaving.

But Seaton's reluctance to bow out of his Cabinet post heightened speculation about half a dozen other possibilities. These included Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther. Gruenther has served as Eisenhower's military chief of staff but now holds down the $30,000-a-year job, with fringe benefits, of president of the Red Cross. The White House post pays $22,500, headaches included.

About all that was certain in this clouded situation was that Eisenhower will act quickly to choose a man without any political strike against him to succeed Adams, who went down swinging in the season's greatest political rhubarb.

Adams was assailed Tuesday night by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler as an official who held "power and authority equal to that exercised by some presidents of the United States" and who quit only to satisfy political expediency.

Adams announced on a nationwide broadcast Monday night he was quitting. He said he had done no wrong in inquiring of government agencies about cases pending against textile industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Goldfine, who showered expensive favors on Adams, said in Boston he believed Adams had quit "out of regard for President Eisenhower, whom he so loyally and ably served."

Butler insisted in a broadcast, however, that Adams "did not live up to the standards of conduct which he and the President have publicly prescribed for all in public life from the humblest to the highest."

Warsaw Talks Seen Approaching Climax

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Indications mounted here today that the Far East cease-fire talks between the United States and Communist China are rapidly approaching a climax.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam studies new instructions for Thursday's fourth conference with Red China's envoy, Wang Ping-nan.

Informed sources said this meeting was likely to be the definitive one — one way or another — because President Eisenhower plans to issue a formal Far East policy statement in Washington Friday.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. said he would probably order them closed after conferring with Norfolk city officials. About 10,000 students would be affected, more than three times the enrollment at Front Royal and Charlottesville, where the governor has closed three schools under Virginia's massive resistance laws.

Southern governors, concluding their annual conference at Lexington, Ky., were expected to debate a states' rights resolution.

Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee said he might offer a resolution reaffirming states rights and responsibilities. And Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, an outspoken segregation advocate, said the 16-state conference should resolve to

Convicted Murderer Asks New Beaver Trial

Atty. A. G. Helbling and Atty. Charles M. Barrickman, counsel for Arthur G. Schuck, who was convicted Friday of the first degree murder of Vincent J. Quigley, filed a motion Tuesday afternoon in Beaver County Courts for a new trial.

Schuck's attorneys held the verdict was against the law, contrary to the weight of evidence and that Judge Morgan H. Sohn had erred in refusing to charge the jury on certain points as requested by the defense.

They also reserved the right to file additional specific reasons in support of the motion within 30 days after the trial testimony has been transcribed by the court stenographer.

The motion will delay sentencing of the Baden machinist, who faces the death penalty. He was tried only for the murder of Quigley, but he also killed William Engel, 44, of Ambridge in the ambush the night of April 27.

Weirton Steel Mishap Kills Hancock Man

NEW CUMBERLAND — A 44-year-old father of 4 was killed early Tuesday evening when he slipped from atop a railroad coal car and was crushed under its wheels while at work in the Weirton Steel Co. blast furnace department.

The victim was August S. Burskey of Smith St., who was dead on arrival at the Weirton General Hospital with injuries received in the mishap at 5:20 p. m.

A foreman in the blast furnace department, he had worked there for about 16 years.

Born here May 14, 1914, he was a son of the late Martin S. and Ann Kral Burskey and was a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church. His wife, Laura Burskey, died Dec. 29, 1956.

Survivors include three sons, James Burskey, Robert Burskey and Daniel Burskey, and a daughter, Norma Jean Burskey, all at home; six sisters, Mrs. Helen Swan, Mrs. Mary Myers, Mrs. Rose Budno, Mrs. Ann Roefaro and Mrs. Eleanor Kobily, all of New Cumberland, and Mrs. Julia Guillet of Webster, Mass., and two brothers, Martin Burskey of Rochester, and Mike Burskey of R. D. 1.

The Rosary Society will hold rites tonight at 7 at the Stewart & Turley Funeral Home while Requiem High Mass will be sung Thursday at 9 a. m. in the church. Burial will be in New Cumberland Cemetery. Friends may call anytime at the funeral home.

6 Are Killed As Violence Hits Beirut

Shootings, Blasts Mark First Day Of Chehab In Office

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Shootings, heavy explosions, burning of automobiles and other violence erupted in Beirut today as President Fuad Chehab moved into his first day in office.

By midmorning official sources said six persons had been killed and a score wounded.

Under ex-President Camille Chamoun, a pro-Westerner, it was Moslems who sparked unrest and manned roadblocks. Today it was members of the Phalange—an extremist Christian party that was causing a bloody ruckus.

Security forces had orders to shoot on sight anyone illegally carrying arms on the streets. This was the toughest order given to

Choice 'Deep Secret'

Ike Ready To Fill Adams' Vacancy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported preparing today to name an above-reproach successor to Sherman Adams as his chief White House assistant.

But even Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn, who played an active role in events leading to Adams' decision to retire, said he hasn't a glimmering of the presidential choice.

As an indication of how closely Eisenhower was guarding his decision, Secretary of the Interior Seaton said in Vallejo, Calif., he doesn't know whether he is being considered for the job.

"The matter of who succeeds to the post of presidential assistant is a particularly personal one with President Eisenhower," Seaton told a news conference Tuesday night.

Seaton, a former senator, left the Harold E. Stassen camp at a critical point to support Eisenhower's bid for the GOP presidential nomination in 1952. He is by all odds the choice of congressional Republicans for the job Adams is leaving.

But Seaton's reluctance to bow out of his Cabinet post heightened speculation about half a dozen other possibilities. These included Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther. Gruenther has served as Eisenhower's military chief of staff but now holds down the $30,000-a-year job, with fringe benefits, of president of the Red Cross. The White House post pays $22,500, headaches included.

About all that was certain in this clouded situation was that Eisenhower will act quickly to choose a man without any political strike against him to succeed Adams, who went down swinging in the season's greatest political rhubarb.

Adams was assailed Tuesday night by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler as an official who held "power and authority equal to that exercised by some presidents of the United States" and who quit only to satisfy political expediency.

Adams announced on a nationwide broadcast Monday night he was quitting. He said he had done no wrong in inquiring of government agencies about cases pending against textile industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Goldfine, who showered expensive favors on Adams, said in Boston he believed Adams had quit "out of regard for President Eisenhower, whom he so loyally and ably served."

Butler insisted in a broadcast, however, that Adams "did not live up to the standards of conduct which he and the President have publicly prescribed for all in public life from the humblest to the highest."

Warsaw Talks Seen Approaching Climax

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Indications mounted here today that the Far East cease-fire talks between the United States and Communist China are rapidly approaching a climax.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam studies new instructions for Thursday's fourth conference with Red China's envoy, Wang Pingnan.

Informed sources said this meeting was likely to be the definitive one — one way or another — because President Eisenhower plans to issue a formal Far East policy statement in Washington Friday.

Beaver Local Lists 2 Issues On Lone Ballot

Bond Proposal, Levy Entered Jointly To Assure State's Aid

A combined $209,000 bond issue and five-tenths mill levy will appear on the ballot at the Nov. 4 general election in the Beaver Local School District — first time in the history of Columbiana County a school board has taken advantage of a 1957 law permitting a combined proposition.

Filed today by the Board of Education with the County Election Board, the special issue is designed to permit the large school district to qualify for a $326,460 state grant and provide $209,000 to match the grant slated for construction of needed additional building facilities.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw and County Auditor I. J. Vorndran worked out final details of the special issue Tuesday, according to George VanHorne, executive head of the district.

The issue includes a half-mill

Hearing Will Resume For 3 In Escape Case

A hearing will resume this afternoon at 1:30 in Municipal Court for three men accused of distracting an officer's attention to aid the escape of a friend who had been arrested for parole violation.

The defendants are William L. Cline, 25, of 633 Jefferson St., and Robert Gene Moore, 20, and William E. Price, 23, both of R. D. 1. The charge was filed by Patrolman Milton L. Fowler, who said they distracted his attention late Monday night and aided in the escape of Alfred Higgins, 23, of Shadyside Ave., whom he had arrested for parole violation.

The case started this morning before Judge George L. Brokaw, with Atty. W. S. Foulks defending and Solicitor Richard J. Clark appearing for the state.

Liquor Arrest Made In Chester Bar Raid

West Virginia State Police officers from Weirton raided the Music Bar at 80 Carolina Ave. in Chester late Tuesday night and arrested the operator for illegal possession of liquor.

Oliver W. Watson was released under a $300 bond for an appearance Monday before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland. State police officers said they found a quantity of liquor in the establishment.

The raid was conducted by Cpl. A. A. Barney, and Troopers D. L. Lake and J. J. Abbott, who have hit other Hancock County taverns in a clampdown on illegal sale of liquor and gambling activities.

WEIRTON — Pauline Frances Tarowsky, owner of Pauline's Bar at West and Ferguson Aves., was fined $100 and costs Tuesday night by Justice of the Peace Thomas Bellanco on charges of selling, giving and dispensing non-intoxicating beer between Sunday midnight and 1 a. m. Monday. she was the 11th person arrested in recent checks of Hancock County's taverns by West Virginia State Police.

Political Barks Turn Into A Bite

The political pressurists finally "got" Sherman Adams.

President Eisenhower's chief White House assistant finally came to the conclusion that his remaining in office had proved to be too much of a liability to the Republican party, so he took the step the President refused to initiate. He got out of his own accord.

The Adams case points up once again the all-too-frequent fickleness of the political public and the precarious position in which many well-meaning public servants place themselves when they accept appointment to high office.

Charles E. Wilson, who sacrificed hundreds of thousands of dollars of his personal wealth in order to serve as defense secretary, frequently heard the political hounds baying when he merely spoke his mind frankly as he had been in the habit of doing as one of the world's top management leaders.

The same thing has happened to other patriotic Americans. The effect on Mr. Wilson and some of the others in the same category was not so catastrophic because they were serving temporarily in public office and did not need to remain.

WITH SHERMAN ADAMS the story is different. He had made a career of public office, in New Hampshire and in the White House. That career now is ended.

There is no question that his acceptance of favors from the slick Bernard Goldfine was bad judgment. He admitted he had come to realize as much and so did President Eisenhower. But there never was any evidence that Mr. Adams did anything dishonest.

He stoutly insisted he had exerted no influence in Goldfine's behalf or that the inquiries he made for the Boston industrialist at various federal agencies were anything more than the routine inquiries he was required to make as a presidential assistant for thousands of other individuals whom he did not even know.

After the Goldfine revelations, in a serio-comic congressional investigation that bordered at times on the slapstick, President Eisenhower told the nation he thought Mr. Adams had made a mistake by unwittingly placing himself in a position that could have been suspect. He did not think his aide had done a disservice. He frankly told Americans that he needed Mr. Adams, that his service to him had been invaluable and that he retained faith in him.

The political dogs kept barking at Mr. Adams' heels. There were Democratic victories in Maine, the first state to vote this year for national and state offices, which may or may not have been attributable to Mr. Adams' remaining in the White House. The barking got louder and Mr. Adams decided he might be embarrassing his chief and his party, so he quit.

THERE IS NO LIKELIHOOD that his resignation will silence the administration's opponents in the November elections.

They will seize the Adams case as an issue to draw attention away from the fact that they have no real issues this year. They have found a cover for their disappointment in the rapid recovery the nation's economy is making—which thus has eliminated the recession as an issue. They will use Mr. Adams as the whipping boy in the absence of anything else important to criticize about the administration.

We doubt if the Sherman Adams case is as important politically as his political opponents have made it seem. We doubt if a majority of the American people think so either.

A Forthright Statement

Gov. O'Neill has announced his stand on the right-to-work amendment. He is for it.

He made his announcement in a forthright, courageous manner for which he should be applauded by all people who expect their public officials to stand up and be counted.

That makes the issue clear-cut between the governor, who is seeking re-election, and his Nov. 4 opponent, Michael V. DiSalle, who has come out against the amendment.

Gov. O'Neill made it clear that he believes in the principle of freedom of choice—an individual's right to join a union or not join a union, as he chooses.

"I ABHOR the growing cancer of corruption that has been exposed by the McClellan committee among certain labor unions and bosses," the governor said. "I believe the honset laboring people, if they had the chance, free from fear and threat of reprisal by loss of their jobs, would clean up their unions. . . . Freedom is our most precious American heritage. Freedom of choice is as priceless as freedom of speech and freedom of the press. . . . I hope every citizen of Ohio will inform himself and then vote his conviction without regard to pressure from any source."

Gov. O'Neill has made his position clear on a hot controversial topic. So has Mr. DiSalle, even if somewhat less forcefully. Now it is time for the two gubernatorial candidates to settle down to the real issue of the campaign: namely, who would make the better governor?

THE RIGHT-TO-WORK amendment actually has no pertinence in the campaign for governor, although there is no doubt it will be injected by proponents and opponents of the candidates in their effort to gain some political advantage.

If the amendment is approved by the people, there is nothing the next governor can do but enforce it. If it is disapproved, there is nothing the next governor can do but permit union shop contracts to be consummated, as they are at present when they are negotiated between employers and their employes who are represented by unions.

Issue No. 2 on the Ohio ballot Nov. 4 will be strictly for the people to decide. Let the gubernatorial candidates settle down to a discussion of programs for highway construction, improvements in state institutions, balancing of the budget, sound law enforcement, good administration, continuing a "climate" for Ohio that will go on attracting new enterprise and jobs to the state, and the many other fields in which a governor can do something.

Storyteller Par Excellence

As the adage about dull Jack who did nothing but work suggests, healthy people must be entertained. Some of history's best-loved personalities have been simply entertainers—men and women who possessed special talents for relieving the tedium and tension, heartache and harassment in the daily lives of the great and the lowly.

Mary Roberts Rinehart was one of them. It is really not too much of an exaggeration to say she perhaps entertained more people than any of her contemporaries. Her half-century career spanned the rise and fall of many another entertainer. Vaudeville died during her reign, radio waxed and waned, moving pictures led the field and then ran into the challenge of television.

Yet nearly all these media benefited from the written works of Mary Roberts Rinehart and in turn spread her name and fame farther and wider. The process is till going on with many of her most popular stories, right back to the first she turned out, "The Circular Staircase."

Mrs. Rinehart did not profess to be a literary giant. She was only a spinner of good tales. Her aim was to entertain and, in doing so, to make a living for herself.

She did both marvelously well.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Living costs have dropped two-tenths of 1 per cent, Washington announces. This is especially noticeable if you have made the corned-beef hash last three days.

We took some person-to-person soundings. "I noticed it when I got the grocery bill and found the butcher forgot to charge for liver for the cat," said a housewife. "Me? I knew there had been a drop when I returned an empty bottle and got the nickel back without the dealer asking if I was sure I had the right store," said another woman whose husband declared, "Things must be getting better. I offered a panhandler a half dollar and he took it without a sneer."

WE HELD A GEIGER Counter over last week's food bill. Had it buzzed loudly it would have indicated a drop in cost of living, It failed to buzz at all.

This indicated Washington was wrong or Harry Truman had tampered with our Geiger.

We held the gadget over a restaurant steak dinner check and it blew up. A replacement held over our miscellaneous expenses went to pieces when it came into contact with taxes and recent gasoline rates.

SHUDDA HADDIM is disappointed in international yacht race. "No show betting," he complains. Always a betting man he rushed off to Newport, but got no place and wrote us as follows: "It looked to me at first like a big-time raceing event, but was a disappointment. No mutuel windows anywhere and I couldn't locate a salt-water bookie. I made the trip wearing a yachting cap and carrying a coil of rope, but I didn't fool anybody on account of my shoes were out at the toes and I needed a haircut and shave.

"THERE WAS a very upstage group at Newport and every time I edged up to a stranger and asked, 'What do you like in the next heat?' I got a snooty brushoff.

"It seems they deport a fellow who talks out of the side of his mouth about yachts. I found one fellow who took me off into a corner and said the Vanderbilts liked the Columbia. But it turned out he was a refugee from Havre de Grace who worked as a dishwasher at Newport.

"THE BRITISH at Newport would tell me nothing, but I got a tip that Winston Churchill, Queen Elizabeth, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Noel Coward, Beatrice Lillie and the Duke of Windsor were betting on the English yacht. I was told that they considered the British entry a sleeper, and they could be right in more ways than one."

THE YALE GLEE CLUB has returned from Russia where it sang college songs on Moscow street corners. The Soviets took the Whiffenpoof song well, but thought Boola Boola indirect aggression up to the time the singers agreed to stop testings.

Ike watched the yacht races. It's his belief the losing yacht misjudged the distance and used the wrong club.

The Warning Light

Mysteries Pile Up In Teamster Probe

By Victor Riesel

No playwright could have written a more dramatic second act finale than did racket-busting Robert Kennedy as he eased the curtain down on his recent Teamsters probe by dropping the name of mystery man Irving Charles Velson into the record.

Victor Riesel

Before we go into Velson's role in this drama, I'd like to do a few program notes on this character, officially an observer for the pro-Soviet Harry Bridges on the gangster-laden New York waterfront.

The government records show that on Sept. 26, 1951, Velson was in the witness chair before the Internal Security subcommittee of the Senate.

Seven years ago, therefore, Velson was asked by that committee's counsel: "I put it to you as a fact that when you were in the armed forces of this government, you were chief assistant to Alexander Stevens, also known as Jay Peters, in the placing of Communist party members in the armed forces and ask you to affirm or deny that fact."

VELSON retorted: "I decline to answer that question on the ground previously stated."

He took the Fifth on the grounds that he might incriminate himself.

There were other such questions inquiring whether Velson had knowledge of Peters' espionage activities — Peters having been one of Moscow's master spies here. Velson gave similar answers —silence.

Yet Harry Bridges hired Velson, who has since made contact with notorious New York waterfront elements.

Velson's name cropped up again, last week—during the McClellan committee hearings on the Teamsters.

Kennedy told the senators that his investigators had been informed that Velson had also contacted a labor newspaper editor named Dick Pastor in the midst of the last federal trial of James Hoffa on a wiretapping charge.

Pastor is editor of "Local 1-S News." This is the publication of a retail union covering employes of R. H. Macy.

Kennedy asked Pastor if it were he who approached a woman member of the jury which acquitted Hoffa. Pastor took the Fifth.

He also pleaded the Fifth when Kennedy asked if a member of the Communist party asked him to approach the lady juror. The woman is a member of Local 1-S of the Retail, Wholesale and Dept. Store Union.

NATURALLY, all this has disturbed the Local 1-S president, Sam. Kovenetsky.

The other day Kovenetsky told an inquiring reporter that Dick Pastor spoke to him during the Hoffa Trial.

"Pastor came to me and said that he had learned that a member of our local union was on the jury," Kovenetsky recalled.

"Pastor said he wanted to get in touch with the woman to do a feature story for the union paper, a sort of human interest piece.

"This startled me. After all this was a federal trial," the union president continued.

"I told him not to approach the woman. I told him not to write such a piece for the paper and to forget about the whole thing. Then I got tied up with union affairs and the international union's convention in Chicago.

"WHILE THERE, I learned that one of the jurors had been approached. When I got back, I called Pastor in and asked whether he had or had not tried to contact the woman. Pastor admitted to me that he had but insisted that it was strictly for a human interest story. I was furious but I accepted Pastor's explanation. The story never appeared."

Then the FBI and other federal agencies moved in. Pastor was questioned by a grand jury. He still is under investigation by the Justice Department, which is seeking to determine if the incident had any deeper significance. Bob Kennedy has been probing this, too.

Irving Velson has been organizing and making contacts and passing out funds on the East Coast docks for years now — for Harry Bridges, boss of the West Coast Longshoremen's Union.

Bridges is bringing his Pacific dock wallopers into Hoffa's Committee on Transportation Unity—which hopes to tie all land, sea and air transport into a single coalition across the United States.

And last Thursday, Bob Kennedy asked Dick Pastor under oath who suggested that he call the juror in the Hoffa trial.

Why all this silence by this editor about a proposed feature piece in a local union paper?

Save The Indians!

By Raymond Moley

My friends in the sports departments rightfully have the exclusive rights that belong to expertness.

Perhaps they will tolerate my comment when I say that I believe they have, in general, a greater proportion of first-class stylists than has my own field of politics and government.

Every day I turn first to their pages in the morning and evening papers. They are more interesting, and I learn many things about fine and lively writing there.

I also offer the proof of some personal knowledge. For more than half a century, I have been a highly emotional Cleveland fan. I have a small book, written when I was in my early teens, in which I recorded the runs, hits, and errors in every game in all cities in the then single league.

Except in 1920, 1948, and 1954, early hopes were always drowned in disappointment. But my heart still whispers the message, "Wait 'til next year."

I DEEPLY deplore the falling attendance in my native city of Cleveland and the decay of the minor leagues—stricken as they are by television.

It seemed a shame that with a passionate following in an immense place like Brooklyn, there should have been no way to provide a plant big enough to meet the needs of a big league team.

It is also a pity that, with long traditions and a great population, Cleveland should be threatened with a similar denial.

But with a business which is one of the last unregimented by government, the inexorable necessity of making ends meet must be faced and the market opened up by the emergence of truly big-league cities—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Baltimore, and Kansas City—should be met.

I offer no panacea. But it seems to me that bigger leagues should be provided for a bigger country.

The present number of clubs was determined when the United States counted less than half of what it is now.

Nor am I impressed by the argument that there are not enough ballplayers to supply ten or twelve-club leagues. As in every profession, individual ability is relative.

THE EXCITEMENT in a contest is whether one team is better than another, not whether the teams you are witnessing could or could not compare with the mighty men of old.

Here, too, the rise in population should count. There are more good doctors, engineers, lawyers. Why not more good ballplayers?

Imaginative front office management can help, too. Any form of public service draws the trade with new devices—and entertainment is no exception. Even the Victorian, stuffy, uncomfortable theaters in New York have had some face—and seat-lifting.

Showmanship other than prowess at bat or in the field creates interest. Bill Veeck in Cleveland, even before he had a championship team, caught the interest of new thousands.

But here I speak with something more than amateur qualifications: The baseball business must forever resist the paralyzing interference of Congress. The salvation of baseball must come from within itself.

Congress has enough to do. Also, it can provide enough entertainment for itself on its own floors. If the Washington Senators cannot live in the Capitol, they must move "to fresh fields and pastures new." But the great civic spirit and imaginative business ability of a city like Cleveland should save the Indians.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Atty. W. S. Foulks, a representative of the Lions Club, spoke at the Constitutional Week program in the 6th St. School.

An open forum was held by the Rotary Club in the Riverview Hotel.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Dr. C. H. Bailey addressed the Lions Club at Mary Patterson Memorial.

TEN YEARS AGO—John Richard McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McIntosh of Glenmoor, resumed his studies as a law student at Columbia University, New York City.

The East Liverpool High School Band and Orchestra Mothers voted to sponsor a concert of the Columbiana County Symphony Orchestra in November.

Launching their campaigns for the November general election, local organizations of both major parties made plans to urge East Liverpool's estimated 3,000 unqualified voters to register before the deadline.

The U. S. Coast Guard is this nation's oldest continuous seagoing service, tracing its history back to 1790 when the First Congress authorized the construction of ten vessels for the collection of revenue. Known first as the Revenue Marine, and later as the Revenue Cutter Service, the Coast Guard received its present name in 1915 under an act of Congress combining the Revenue Cutter Service with the Life - Saving Service.

Political Lynching

By David Lawrence

Adams Leaves, But Not With Bowed Head

An innocent man went to the gallows of American politics Monday night — convicted not by "a jury of his peers" but by the political hangmen of the hour. His head was not bowed in shame. For his conscience was clear. He yielded only to the law of expediency, which enforces its cruel verdict to satisfy the passions of the mob even in politics.

David Lawrence

For the political "lynching" of Sherman Adams was no less an injustice because it was carried out under the "code" which demands that, in order to win elections, suspicion must be accepted as proof.

The lifelong reputation of an individual for honesty and integrity must bear now the stigma of an involuntary resignation from a high post in government, though necessarily couched in the phrases of a voluntary act.

GRANTED that Sherman Adams accepted gifts from a close personal friend doing business with government agencies, and granted that he performed for him the same service in obtaining information that was given to others who were not friends, will men in public life ever again be given the benefit of the rule that a man is presumed honest until proved dishonest?

Will the general public feel now that all men appointed to government who have contributed money to campaigns really owed their appointments to merit?

And will those individuals who accept campaign contributions now and are elected to office be free from suspicion that they cannot serve the public interest impartially?

For the martyrdom of Sherman Adams can become sooner or later the martyrdom of any public official who has accepted favors, large or small, from anybody outside the government.

The whole political system is adjudged now to have been "corrupted" by this practice. If the elimination of Sherman Adams means that everyone who has accepted gifts is suspect, then the candidates concerned should in all candor withdraw from the race this autumn.

Every candidate who has accepted money for his campaign from any labor-union organization or from any employer organization must disclose all the facts of and explain his voting record with reference to those interests. The new "code" sternly requires it.

How many candidates for Congress will come forth to do what Sherman Adams found himself compelled to do?

IT HAS BEEN said on the floor of Congress this year that $700,000 was spent to elect a Democratic senator with funds collected drom labor union members.

It has been said also on the floor of Congress recently that in the last election 175 members in both houses owed their success in part to labor union money.

What's the difference between a few hundred dollars paid for a hotel bill or a gift coat and tens of thousands of dollars paid to insure that certain members of Congress will vote on legislation as labor shall dictate? There is none —if suspicion is the only test.

Maybe the Adams case will prove saultary. It will be small comfort to the man himself, who is the victim, though in a larger sense it could do a great deal of good.

Hypocrisy, however, reigns in the precincts of politics. The only persons who are crucified are those who have the ill luck to be made the victims of party pressure as a result of exposure by the opposite party, which happens to be in control of the investigative machinery in Congress.

THE PROBABILITIES are that the Republicans will not win the election just because they think they now have divested themselves of the smears of the Democrats by bringing about the departure of Sherman Adams from the White House.

On the contrary, there will be division in the Republican ranks because of the episode, and many will voice their protest against the "lynching."

In the end, the Democrats will win Congress because they have no scruples about taking gifts or accepting millions of dollars from special interests.

This pays for the propaganda that misleads the voters and for the expenses of precinct work that brings uninformed voters to the polling booth to vote as the labor bosses have told them to vote under penalty of losing their jobs in supposedly "free America."

Peace Of Mind

By Robert P. Walker

Hitting the ceiling is no way to get up in the world!

I am no authority on sports, but it seems to me this is the year of the "junk ballers" among big league pitchers. No longer do the "fast ballers" sit alone on the pitching throne. The Bob Purkeys with their slow balls, changes of pace and smooth control have come into their own.

One sports wag watching one of Pitcher Stu Miller's offerings is reported to have said, "That one is so slow, it's about to turn around and go back." But no one can quarrel with the success of this type of pitching as against those who must bear down hard on every pitch.

Baseball is not the only sport where easy rhythm and change of pace brings success. The great golfer Babe Didrickson testified that her success came when she stopped trying "to kill the ball."

In boxing, this same thing is known as the ability to "roll with the punch."

This thread that runs so true doesn't stop with sports. It runs right on through successful everyday living.

Perhaps you have been a witness when some poor motorist has killed his motor just as the traffic light turned green and suffered a terrific blast from the rear from another motorist infuriated by a few seconds delay. The honking, ill-tempered, impatient motorist is a phenomenon which we encounter frequently and I confess to having wasted considerable thought on fiendish devices which could be mounted on the rear of autos with which I could retaliate when unjustly blasted.

Once when a father and son were taking a railway trip together, the father innocently perpetrated some slight infraction and was unmercifully "bawled out" by a minor train employe.

The young man hotly told his father that he should have given the man a beating, or should have at least reported him.

The father quietly told his son, "If a man like that can stand himself all his life, surely I can stand him for five minutes."

Jose Ferrer built a whole movie around a company executive who nearly resigned his job simply because his name had been left off a company luncheon list in error.

The furious train employe, the honking motorist, and the executive are typical of the many times a day people become upset and irritated over minor things in life. All needed to master the art of change of pace.

Most of us, however, are like many unsuccessful pitchers and poor golfers. We are bearing down all the time trying to make people and things conform to our desires in all situations. We have not learned the change of pace required in smaller things.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if all people could discover the difference between peace of mind and piece of mind!

Letter To Editor

This year there seem to be a lot of school bus accidents — where other motor vehicles ram into the rear of a bus when it is stopped to take on school children.

The school buses are equipped with flasher lights in front and rear, but in foggy weather you cannot see the lights in time.

Why can't the school board install a loud bell, similar to an electric fire alarm bell used on our fire trucks? This would warn the on-coming motorist to stop.

Political Barks Turn Into A Bite

The political pressurists finally "got" Sherman Adams.

President Eisenhower's chief White House assistant finally came to the conclusion that his remaining in office had proved to be too much of a liability to the Republican party, so he took the step the President refused to initiate. He got out of his own accord.

The Adams case points up once again the all-too-frequent fickleness of the political public and the precarious position in which many well-meaning public servants place themselves when they accept appointment to high office.

Charles E. Wilson, who sacrificed hundreds of thousands of dollars of his personal wealth in order to serve as defense secretary, frequently heard the political hounds baying when he merely spoke his mind frankly as he had been in the habit of doing as one of the world's top management leaders.

The same thing has happened to other patriotic Americans. The effect on Mr. Wilson and some of the others in the same category was not so catastrophic because they were serving temporarily in public office and did not need to remain.

WITH SHERMAN ADAMS the story is different. He had made a career of public office, in New Hampshire and in the White House. That career now is ended.

There is no question that his acceptance of favors from the slick Bernard Goldfine was bad judgment. He admitted he had come to realize as much and so did President Eisenhower. But there never was any evidence that Mr. Adams did anything dishonest.

He stoutly insisted he had exerted no influence in Goldfine's behalf or that the inquiries he made for the Boston industrialist at various federal agencies were anything more than the routine inquiries he was required to make as a presidential assistant for thousands of other individuals whom he did not even know.

After the Goldfine revelations, in a seriocomic congressional investigation that bordered at times on the slapstick, President Eisenhower told the nation he thought Mr. Adams had made a mistake by unwittingly placing himself in a position that could have been suspect. He did not think his aide had done a disservice. He frankly told Americans that he needed Mr. Adams, that his service to him had been invaluable and that he retained faith in him.

The political dogs kept barking at Mr. Adams' heels. There were Democratic victories in Maine, the first state to vote this year for national and state offices, which may or may not have been attributable to Mr. Adams' remaining in the White House. The barking got louder and Mr. Adams decided he might be embarrassing his chief and his party, so he quit.

THERE IS NO LIKELIHOOD that his resignation will silence the administration's opponents in the November elections.

They will seize the Adams case as an issue to draw attention away from the fact that they have no real issues this year. They have found a cover for their disappointment in the rapid recovery the nation's economy is making—which thus has eliminated the recession as an issue. They will use Mr. Adams as the whipping boy in the absence of anything else important to criticize about the administration.

We doubt if the Sherman Adams case is as important politically as his political opponents have made it seem. We doubt if a majority of the American people think so either.

A Forthright Statement

Gov. O'Neill has announced his stand on the right-to-work amendment. He is for it.

He made his announcement in a forthright, courageous manner for which he should be applauded by all people who expect their public officials to stand up and be counted.

That makes the issue clear-cut between the governor, who is seeking re-election, and his Nov. 4 opponent, Michael V. DiSalle, who has come out against the amendment.

Gov. O'Neill made it clear that he believes in the principle of freedom of choice—an individual's right to join a union or not join a union, as he chooses.

"I ABHOR the growing cancer of corruption that has been exposed by the McClellan committee among certain labor unions and bosses," the governor said. "I believe the honset laboring people, if they had the chance, free from fear and threat of reprisal by loss of their jobs, would clean up their unions. . . . Freedom is our most precious American heritage. Freedom of choice is as priceless as freedom of speech and freedom of the press. . . . I hope every citizen of Ohio will inform himself and then vote his conviction without regard to pressure from any source."

Gov. O'Neill has made his position clear on a hot controversial topic. So has Mr. DiSalle, even if somewhat less forcefully. Now it is time for the two gubernatorial candidates to settle down to the real issue of the campaign: namely, who would make the better governor?

THE RIGHT-TO-WORK amendment actually has no pertinence in the campaign for governor, although there is no doubt it will be injected by proponents and opponents of the candidates in their effort to gain some political advantage.

If the amendment is approved by the people, there is nothing the next governor can do but enforce it. If it is disapproved, there is nothing the next governor can do but permit union shop contracts to be consummated, as they are at present when they are negotiated between employers and their employes who are represented by unions.

Issue No. 2 on the Ohio ballot Nov. 4 will be strictly for the people to decide. Let the gubernatorial candidates settle down to a discussion of programs for highway construction, improvements in state institutions, balancing of the budget, sound law enforcement, good administration, continuing a "climate" for Ohio that will go on attracting new enterprise and jobs to the state, and the many other fields in which a governor can do something.

Storyteller Par Excellence

As the adage about dull Jack who did nothing but work suggests, healthy people must be entertained. Some of history's best-loved personalities have been simply entertainers—men and women who possessed special talents for relieving the tedium and tension, heartache and harassment in the daily lives of the great and the lowly.

Mary Roberts Rinehart was one of them. It is really not too much of an exaggeration to say she perhaps entertained more people than any of her contemporaries. Her half-century career spanned the rise and fall of many another entertainer. Vaudeville died during her reign, radio waxed and waned, moving pictures led the field and then ran into the challenge of television.

Yet nearly all these media benefited from the written works of Mary Roberts Rinehart and in turn spread her name and fame farther and wider. The process is till going on with many of her most popular stories, right back to the first she turned out, "The Circular Staircase."

Mrs. Rinehart did not profess to be a literary giant. She was only a spinner of good tales. Her aim was to entertain and, in doing so, to make a living for herself.

She did both marvelously well.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Living costs have dropped two-tenths of 1 per cent, Washington announces. This is especially noticeable if you have made the corned-beef hash last three days.

We took some person-to-person soundings. "I noticed it when I got the grocery bill and found the butcher forgot to charge for liver for the cat," said a housewife. "Me? I knew there had been a drop when I returned an empty bottle and got the nickel back without the dealer asking if I was sure I had the right store," said another woman whose husband declared, "Things must be getting better. I offered a panhandler a half dollar and he took it without a sneer."

WE HELD A GEIGER Counter over last week's food bill. Had it buzzed loudly it would have indicated a drop in cost of living. It failed to buzz at all.

This indicated Washington was wrong or Harry Truman had tampered with our Geiger.

We held the gadget over a restaurant steak dinner check and it blew up. A replacement held over our miscellaneous expenses went to pieces when it came into contact with taxes and recent gasoline rates.

Always a betting man he rushed off to Newport, but got no place and wrote us as follows: "It looked to me at first like a big-time raceing event, but was a disappointment. No mutuel windows anywhere and I couldn't locate a salt-water bookie. I made the trip wearing a yachting cap and carrying a coil of rope, but I didn't fool anybody on account of my shoes were out at the toes and I needed a haircut and shave.

"THERE WAS a very upstage group at Newport and every time I edged up to a stranger and asked, 'What do you like in the next heat?' I got a snooty brushoff.

"It seems they deport a fellow who talks out of the side of his mouth about yachts. I found one fellow who took me off into a corner and said the Vanderbilts liked the Columbia. But it turned out he was a refugee from Havre de Grace who worked as a dishwasher at Newport.

"THE BRITISH at Newport would tell me nothing, but I got a tip that Winston Churchill, Queen Elizabeth, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Noel Coward, Beatrice Lillie and the Duke of Windsor were betting on the English yacht. I was told that they considered the British entry a sleeper, and they could be right in more ways than one."

The Warning Light

Mysteries Pile Up In Teamster Probe

By Victor Riesel

No playwright could have written a more dramatic second act finale than did racket-busting Robert Kennedy as he eased the curtain down on his recent Teamsters probe by dropping the name of mystery man Irving Charles Velson into the record.

Victor Riesel

Before we go into Velson's role in this drama, I'd like to do a few program notes on this character, officially an observer for the pro-Soviet Harry Bridges on the gangster-laden New York waterfront.

The government records show that on Sept. 26, 1951, Velson was in the witness chair before the Internal Security subcommittee of the Senate.

Seven years ago, therefore, Velson was asked by that committee's counsel: "I put it to you as a fact that when you were in the armed forces of this government, you were chief assistant to Alexander Stevens, also known as Jay Peters, in the placing of Communist party members in the armed forces and ask you to affirm or deny that fact."

VELSON retorted: "I decline to answer that question on the ground previously stated."

He took the Fifth on the grounds that he might incriminate himself.

There were other such questions inquiring whether Velson had knowledge of Peters' espionage activities — Peters having been one of Moscow's master spies here. Velson gave similar answers —silence.

Yet Harry Bridges hired Velson, who has since made contact with notorious New York waterfront elements.

Velson's name cropped up again, last week—during the McClellan committee hearings on the Teamsters.

Kennedy told the senators that his investigators had been informed that Velson had also contacted a labor newspaper editor named Dick Pastor in the midst of the last federal trial of James Hoffa on a wiretapping charge.

Pastor is editor of "Local 1-S News." This is the publication of a retail union covering employes of R. H. Macy.

Kennedy asked Pastor if it were he who approached a woman member of the jury which acquitted Hoffa. Pastor took the Fifth.

He also pleaded the Fifth when Kennedy asked if a member of the Communist party asked him to approach the lady juror. The woman is a member of Local 1-S of the Retail, Wholesale and Dept. Store Union.

NATURALLY, all this has disturbed the Local 1-S president, Sam. Kovenetsky.

The other day Kovenetsky told an inquiring reporter that Dick Pastor spoke to him during the Hoffa Trial.

"Pastor came to me and said that he had learned that a member of our local union was on the jury," Kovenetsky recalled.

"Pastor said he wanted to get in touch with the woman to do a feature story for the union paper, a sort of human interest piece.

"This startled me. After all this was a federal trial," the union president continued.

"I told him not to approach the woman. I told him not to write such a piece for the paper and to forget about the whole thing. Then I got tied up with union affairs and the international union's convention in Chicago.

"WHILE THERE, I learned that one of the jurors had been approached. When I got back, I called Pastor in and asked whether he had or had not tried to contact the woman. Pastor admitted to me that he had but insisted that it was strictly for a human interest story. I was furious but I accepted Pastor's explanation. The story never appeared."

Then the FBI and other federal agencies moved in. Pastor was questioned by a grand jury. He still is under investigation by the Justice Department, which is seeking to determine if the incident had any deeper significance. Bob Kennedy has been probing this, too.

Irving Velson has been organizing and making contacts and passing out funds on the East Coast docks for years now — for Harry Bridges, boss of the West Coast Longshoremen's Union.

Bridges is bringing his Pacific dock wallopers into Hoffa's Committee on Transportation Unity—which hopes to tie all land, sea and air transport into a single coalition across the United States.

And last Thursday, Bob Kennedy asked Dick Pastor under oath who suggested that he call the juror in the Hoffa trial.

Why all this silence by this editor about a proposed feature piece in a local union paper?

Save The Indians!

By Raymond Moley

My friends in the sports departments rightfully have the exclusive rights that belong to expertness.

Perhaps they will tolerate my comment when I say that I believe they have, in general, a greater proportion of first-class stylists than has my own field of politics and government.

Every day I turn first to their pages in the morning and evening papers. They are more interesting, and I learn many things about fine and lively writing there.

I also offer the proof of some personal knowledge. For more than half a century, I have been a highly emotional Cleveland fan. I have a small book, written when I was in my early teens, in which I recorded the runs, hits, and errors in every game in all cities in the then single league.

Except in 1920, 1948, and 1954, early hopes were always drowned in disappointment. But my heart still whispers the message, "Wait 'til next year."

I DEEPLY deplore the falling attendance in my native city of Cleveland and the decay of the minor leagues—stricken as they are by television.

It seemed a shame that with a passionate following in an immense place like Brooklyn, there should have been no way to provide a plant big enough to meet the needs of a big league team.

It is also a pity that, with long traditions and a great population, Cleveland should be threatened with a similar denial.

But with a business which is one of the last unregimented by government, the inexorable necessity of making ends meet must be faced and the market opened up by the emergence of truly big-league cities—Los Angeles, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Baltimore, and Kansas City—should be met.

I offer no panacea. But it seems to me that bigger leagues should be provided for a bigger country.

The present number of clubs was determined when the United States counted less than half of what it is now.

Nor am I impressed by the argument that there are not enough ballplayers to supply ten or twelve-club leagues. As in every profession, individual ability is relative.

THE EXCITEMENT in a contest is whether one team is better than another, not whether the teams you are witnessing could or could not compare with the mighty men of old.

Here, too, the rise in population should count. There are more good doctors, engineers, lawyers. Why not more good ballplayers?

Imaginative front office management can help, too. Any form of public service draws the trade with new devices—and entertainment is no exception. Even the Victorian, stuffy, uncomfortable theaters in New York have had some face—and seat-lifting.

Showmanship other than prowess at bat or in the field creates interest. Bill Veeck in Cleveland, even before he had a championship team, caught the interest of new thousands.

But here I speak with something more than amateur qualifications: The baseball business must forever resist the paralyzing interference of Congress. The salvation of baseball must come from within itself.

Congress has enough to do. Also, it can provide enough entertainment for itself on its own floors. If the Washington Senators cannot live in the Capitol, they must move "to fresh fields and pastures new." But the great civic spirit and imaginative business ability of a city like Cleveland should save the Indians.

Down Through The Years

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Dr. C. H. Bailey addressed the Lions Club at Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mrs. Joseph French, president of the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association, appointed her 1938-39 standing committees.

TEN YEARS AGO—John Richard McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil McIntosh of Glenmoor, resumed his studies as a law student at Columbia University, New York City.

The East Liverpool High School Band and Orchestra Mothers voted to sponsor a concert of the Columbiana County Symphony Orchestra in November.

Launching their campaigns for the November general election, local organizations of both major parties made plans to urge East Liverpool's estimated 3,000 unqualified voters to register before the deadline.

The U. S. Coast Guard is this nation's oldest continuous seagoing service, tracing its history back to 1790 when the First Congress authorized the construction of ten vessels for the collection of revenue. Known first as the Revenue Marine, and later as the Revenue Cutter Service, the Coast Guard received its present name in 1915 under an act of Congress combining the Revenue Cutter Service with the Life - Saving Service.

Political Lynching

By David Lawrence

Adams Leaves, But Not With Bowed Head

An innocent man went to the gallows of American politics Monday night — convicted not by "a jury of his peers" but by the political hangmen of the hour. His head was not bowed in shame. For his conscience was clear. He yielded only to the law of expediency, which enforces its cruel verdict to satisfy the passions of the mob even in politics.

David Lawrence

For the political "lynching" of Sherman Adams was no less an injustice because it was carried out under the "code" which demands that, in order to win elections, suspicion must be accepted as proof.

The lifelong reputation of an individual for honesty and integrity must bear now the stigma of an involuntary resignation from a high post in government, though necessarily couched in the phrases of a voluntary act.

Sometimes, however, more votes are lost by the sacrifice of a principle than are gained by a seeming display of virtue.

GRANTED that Sherman Adams accepted gifts from a close personal friend doing business with government agencies, and granted that he performed for him the same service in obtaining information that was given to others who were not friends, will men in public life ever again be given the benefit of the rule that a man is presumed honest until proved dishonest?

Will the general public feel now that all men appointed to government who have contributed money to campaigns really owed their appointments to merit?

And will those individuals who accept campaign contributions now and are elected to office be free from suspicion that they cannot serve the public interest impartially?

For the martyrdom of Sherman Adams can become sooner or later the martyrdom of any public official who has accepted favors, large or small, from anybody outside the government.

The whole political system is adjudged now to have been "corrupted" by this practice. If the elimination of Sherman Adams means that everyone who has accepted gifts is suspect, then the candidates concerned should in all candor withdraw from the race this autumn.

Every candidate who has accepted money for his campaign from any labor-union organization or from any employer organization must disclose all the facts of and explain his voting record with reference to those interests. The new "code" sternly requires it.

How many candidates for Congress will come forth to do what Sherman Adams found himself compelled to do?

IT HAS BEEN said on the floor of Congress this year that $700,000 was spent to elect a Democratic senator with funds collected drom labor union members.

It has been said also on the floor of Congress recently that in the last election 175 members in both houses owed their success in part to labor union money.

What's the difference between a few hundred dollars paid for a hotel bill or a gift coat and tens of thousands of dollars paid to insure that certain members of Congress will vote on legislation as labor shall dictate? There is none —if suspicion is the only test.

Maybe the Adams case will prove saultary. It will be small comfort to the man himself, who is the victim, though in a larger sense it could do a great deal of good.

Hypocrisy, however, reigns in the precincts of politics. The only persons who are crucified are those who have the ill luck to be made the victims of party pressure as a result of exposure by the opposite party, which happens to be in control of the investigative machinery in Congress.

THE PROBABILITIES are that the Republicans will not win the election just because they think they now have divested themselves of the smears of the Democrats by bringing about the departure of Sherman Adams from the White House.

On the contrary, there will be division in the Republican ranks because of the episode, and many will voice their protest against the "lynching."

In the end, the Democrats will win Congress because they have no scruples about taking gifts or accepting millions of dollars from special interests.

This pays for the propaganda that misleads the voters and for the expenses of precinct work that brings uninformed voters to the polling booth to vote as the labor bosses have told them to vote under penalty of losing their jobs in supposedly "free America."

Peace Of Mind

By Robert P. Walker

Hitting the ceiling is no way to get up in the world!

I am no authority on sports, but it seems to me this is the year of the "junk ballers" among big league pitchers. No longer do the "fast ballers" sit alone on the pitching throne. The Bob Purkeys with their slow balls, changes of pace and smooth control have come into their own.

One sports wag watching one of Pitcher Stu Miller's offerings is reported to have said, "That one is so slow, it's about to turn around and go back." But no one can quarrel with the success of this type of pitching as against those who must bear down hard on every pitch.

Baseball is not the only sport where easy rhythm and change of pace brings success. The great golfer Babe Didrickson testified that her success came when she stopped trying "to kill the ball."

In boxing, this same thing is known as the ability to "roll with the punch."

This thread that runs so true doesn't stop with sports. It runs right on through successful everyday living.

Perhaps you have been a witness when some poor motorist has killed his motor just as the traffic light turned green and suffered a terrific blast from the rear from another motorist infuriated by a few seconds delay. The honking, ill-tempered, impatient motorist is a phenomenon which we encounter frequently and I confess to having wasted considerable thought on fiendish devices which could be mounted on the rear of autos with which I could retaliate when unjustly blasted.

Once when a father and son were taking a railway trip together, the father innocently perpetrated some slight infraction and was unmercifully "bawled out" by a minor train employe.

The young man hotly told his father that he should have given the man a beating, or should have at least reported him.

The father quietly told his son, "If a man like that can stand himself all his life, surely I can stand him for five minutes."

Jose Ferrer built a whole movie around a company executive who nearly resigned his job simply because his name had been left off a company luncheon list in error.

The furious train employe, the honking motorist, and the executive are typical of the many times a day people become upset and irritated over minor things in life. All needed to master the art of change of pace.

Most of us, however, are like many unsuccessful pitchers and poor golfers. We are bearing down all the time trying to make people and things conform to our desires in all situations. We have not learned the change of pace required in smaller things.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if all people could discover the difference between peace of mind and piece of mind!

Letter To Editor

This year there seem to be a lot of school bus accidents — where other motor vehicles ram into the rear of a bus when it is stopped to take on school children.

The school buses are equipped with flasher lights in front and rear, but in foggy weather you cannot see the lights in time.

Why can't the school board install a loud bell, similar to an electric fire alarm bell used on our fire trucks? This would warn the on-coming motorist to stop.

Recognition Given Quota Group For Speech Clinic

Recognition from Quota International for the speech clinic operated by the Quota Club was reported at a dinner meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Miss Gladys DeBolt, delegate to the international convention in July at San Francisco, reported on the recognition extended at the sessions. The clinic also was cited as the outstanding service project of 1958 by the 6th District.

A panel on the clinic was featured with Miss DeBolt as moderator. The club has been asked to present the same panel at the district meeting scheduled Oct. 3-5 in Cleveland.

Panelists were Miss Phyllis Crook on origin and organization; Miss Justine Miller, finance; Miss Mildred McGregor, enrollment and registration, and Dr. Edith Gilmore, professional and volunteer personnel.

The project is in conjunction with the International program of aid to the hard of hearing and speech correction.

Dr. John Montgomery and Dr. E. C. Hutchinson, both of Kent State University, assisted by postgraduate students, are in charge of the clinic sessions held on Saturday mornings at Westgate School. Children in area schools with speech problems are recommended to the clinic.

During the panel discussion it was reported the club spent some $1,640 earned by members through various projects. A recent Tag Day netted $275 to further the work.

Business was conducted by Dr. Gilmore, president, and the group voted to give fund contributions at Christmas to provide a scholarship at Kent State for a speech and hearing major who plans to follow a career of speech therapist.

A detailed report of the international convention was given by Miss DeBolt, who is first vice president.

Invitations were received to attend the charter event for a new club in Cincinnati Oct. 18 and for the birthday party of the Beaver club Oct. 21.

Mrs. Grace Ruth, New York representative for Civic Concert Service, spoke concerning the current membership drive for the local Civic Music Association.

A brief board meeting followed and a donation was voted for the Child Counseling Center. Fund-raising projects were adopted for continued support of the speech clinic and the group will sell pecans, candy and fruit cakes.

A luncheon will be held Oct. 14 at the hotel.

Problems Of Teachers Cited In Sorority Panel Discussion

Problems of the teaching profession were cited during a panel discussion at the initial fall meeting of the Alpha Iota Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville Tuesday night.

The group includes women teachers from Columbiana County.

Following the year's theme, "Teacher Welfare: Building a Unified Profession and Securing Public Understanding," the panel stressed the teachers' welfare.

They discussed aspects of the profession, which made teachers dissatisfied forcing them to turn to other occupations. Poor salaries and the burden of clerical work of teachers were cited.

The merit system of paying teachers, which is used in some areas, gives the outstanding or exceptional teacher a higher salary than one considered average, the panel pointed out. This posed the question as to who would be qualified to determine the superior educators against those considered average. Disrespect for teachers, which has developed, was also discussed.

Mrs. Marilyn Solak of Salineville, county high school superintendent, was moderator and those on the panel were Miss Carol Kelly of Salem, Miss Nancy Bauknecht of East Palestine, Mrs. Helen Welch of Wellsville and Miss Della Wetzel of Lisbon.

About 45 attended and Mrs. Martha Hamilton of East Palestine, president, offered the invocation and conducted business.

Program books for the year were distributed. The yellow covers featured the key insignia of the organization. Miss Mabel Sheerer of East Palestine is program chairman for the year.

The next meeting is Oct. 22 at Westgate School. Miss Julia Jo Barnhart, a teacher at Beaver Local Elementary School, who taught in France for a year, will discuss "Parent Relationship In France."

Recognition Given Quota Group For Speech Clinic

Recognition from Quota International for the speech clinic operated by the Quota Club was reported at a dinner meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Miss Gladys DeBolt, delegate to the international convention in July at San Francisco, reported on the recognition extended at the sessions. The clinic also was cited as the outstanding service project of 1958 by the 6th District.

A panel on the clinic was featured with Miss DeBolt as moderator. The club has been asked to present the same panel at the district meeting scheduled Oct. 3-5 in Cleveland.

Panelists were Miss Phyllis Crook on origin and organization; Miss Justine Miller, finance; Miss Mildred McGregor, enrollment and registration, and Dr. Edith Gilmore, professional and volunteer personnel.

The project is in conjunction with the International program of aid to the hard of hearing and speech correction.

Dr. John Montgomery and Dr. E. C. Hutchinson, both of Kent State University, assisted by postgraduate students, are in charge of the clinic sessions held on Saturday mornings at Westgate School. Children in area schools with speech problems are recommended to the clinic.

During the panel discussion it was reported the club spent some $1,640 earned by members through various projects. A recent Tag Day netted $275 to further the work.

Business was conducted by Dr. Gilmore, president, and the group voted to give fund contributions at Christmas to provide a scholarship at Kent State for a speech and hearing major who plans to follow a career of speech therapist.

A detailed report of the international convention was given by Miss DeBolt, who is first vice president.

Invitations were received to attend the charter event for a new club in Cincinnati Oct. 18 and for the birthday party of the Beaver club Oct. 21.

Mrs. Grace Ruth, New York representative for Civic Concert Service, spoke concerning the current membership drive for the local Civic Music Association.

A brief board meeting followed and a donation was voted for the Child Counseling Center. Fund-raising projects were adopted for continued support of the speech clinic and the group will sell pecans, candy and fruit cakes.

A luncheon will be held Oct. 14 at the hotel.

Problems Of Teachers Cited In Sorority Panel Discussion

Problems of the teaching profession were cited during a panel discussion at the initial fall meeting of the Alpha Iota Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Sorority at Piatt's Tea Room in Wellsville Tuesday night.

The group includes women teachers from Columbiana County.

Following the year's theme, "Teacher Welfare: Building a Unified Profession and Securing Public Understanding," the panel stressed the teachers' welfare.

They discussed aspects of the profession, which made teachers dissatisfied forcing them to turn to other occupations. Poor salaries and the burden of clerical work of teachers were cited.

The merit system of paying teachers, which is used in some areas, gives the outstanding or exceptional teacher a higher salary than one considered average, the panel pointed out. This posed the question as to who would be qualified to determine the superior educators against those considered average. Disrespect for teachers, which has developed, was also discussed.

Mrs. Marilyn Solak of Salineville, county high school superintendent, was moderator and those on the panel were Miss Carol Kelly of Salem, Miss Nancy Bauknecht of East Palestine, Mrs. Helen Welch of Wellsville and Miss Della Wetzel of Lisbon.

About 45 attended and Mrs. Martha Hamilton of East Palestine, president, offered the invocation and conducted business.

Program books for the year were distributed. The yellow covers featured the key insignia of the organization. Miss Mabel Sheerer of East Palestine is program chairman for the year.

The next meeting is Oct. 22 at Westgate School. Miss Julia Jo Barnhart, a teacher at Beaver Local Elementary School, who taught in France for a year, will discuss "Parent Relationship In France."

Illness Claims W. E. Mundy

Former Boston Ball Player Taken At 69

William E. Mundy, resident of the Riverview Hotel at Wellsville and former professional baseball player, died Tuesday at 10:45 a.m. at the Bronson Methodist Hospital at Kalamazoo, Mich., where he had been a patient 10 days. He was 69.

security forces since the Lebanese crisis began in early May.

The Phalangists ordered a general shutdown of shops and services in the predominant Christian area of Beirut which includes the beachfront hotel district, the business district and residential districts.

The announced purpose of today's wave of terror was to gain revenge for last week's kidnaping of a Phalangist journalist, Fuad Haddad, by unknown persons.

A day and night curfew, imposed Monday and maintained through the inauguration of Chehab Tuesday, was lifted at midnight. Shortly thereafter Phalangists began manning roadblocks in various parts of Beirut and trouble began.

The port area, where American warships are docked, is flanked on one side by the Phalangists and on the other by black-shirted Moslem Najjada party extremists.

LISBON — The Columbiana-Mahoning County poultry committee met Tuesday night at the Village Hall in Columbiana and planned a poultry school at the Memorial Building in Salem beginning Tuesday, Nov. 11, and continuing each Tuesday night for four weeks.

The annual poultry institute will be held Wednesday, Jan. 14, from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple in Salem.

A twilight meeting for next summer was also discussed.

The Columbiana County committee will meet Friday, Oct. 17, in the extension office at Lisbon to study trends of the industry, Floyd Lower, county extension agent, said.

Polio Cases In Detroit Hit 440, 12 Dead

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit has been hit by its worst outbreak of polio since the introduction of Salk polio vaccine. At least 440 cases have been reported this year, with 12 deaths.

The epidemic is greater in Detroit and its immediate suburbs than in any other section of the nation.

Health authorities say about 30 to 35 per cent of the cases have been paralytic, but that no paralytic cases and no deaths have been reported among persons who received the full three-shot treatment of polio vaccine.

Salk polio vaccine was introduced on a test basis in 1954 and pronounced extremely effective the following spring. The tests were conducted at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, only 30 miles from Detroit. One of the major producers is Parke, Davis & Co., a Detroit firm.

levy for 23 years which will provide for partial payment of the state grant and a 1.6-mill levy over a 21-year period to retire the bond issue.

The half-mill measure would result in payment of about $4,000 annually to the state, or about $92,000 for the grant of $326,464. The other measure is required to bring the district up to the 9 per cent bonded indebtedness needed to qualify for state aid.

The total result of the grant and district funds would be between $450,000 and $500,000 slated for increasing classroom facilities at the high school, Calcutta, Rogers, Elkton and West Point schools, VanHorne said.

The district will also vote on a renewal of a 2-mill operating levy, a 5-year measure which provides some $19,000 annually for school operating expenses. This levy, due to expire next year, was first passed in 1951 and was renewed in 1954.

VanHorne said the special measure was submitted under an emergency clause of a recent state law which enables school districts to file special issues up to 35 days prior to an election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said both propositions will appear on a single combined ballot and voters will show their preference with a single X.

protect states "against all federal encroachment."

The Little Rock School Board action could delay plans of Gov. Orval E. Faubus to reopen the four high schools next week on a private, segregated basis. Citizens of the Little Rock school district will vote Saturday on whether they want segregated or integrated schools, and Faubus has predicted an overwhelming vote for segregation.

Little Rock's three television stations are providing six hours of daily instruction by the regular teachers. First classes went on the air Monday.

At Van Buren, Ark., twin white boys were suspended Tuesday from the integrated high school. A school official said they refused to leave the school yard and return to classes after a reported spitting incident involving a Negro student. One of the twins said the Negro spat in his face. The Negro denied it.

Mr. Mundy had been visiting a daughter, Mrs. John Zahrndt, of Kalamazoo for several weeks. He had been in ill health for the past three years. He was born in Salineville, a son of the late Edward and Florence Hayes Mundy.

During his younger days he played with the Boston Red Sox as a first baseman. He had been employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. as a millwright until retiring in 1955 due to ill health.

Mundy played 17 games with Boston in the American League in 1913. His batting average was .255.

Mr. Mundy attended the First Presbyterian Church. A veteran of World War I, he was a member of Elks Lodge 1040 and American Legion Post 70, both of Wellsville, and the Columbiana County 40 & 8 Society.

Survivors include another daughter, Mrs. Thomas King of Steubenville; a sister, Mrs. George Deidrich of Monaca; a brother, Earl C. Mundy of Wellsville and two grandchildren.

His wife, Mrs. Lula Scott Mundy, died Dec. 10, 1945.

Services will be held at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville Friday afternoon at 2 by the Rev. Philip H. Fletcher. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday afternoon and night.

security forces since the Lebanese crisis began in early May.

The Phalangists ordered a general shutdown of shops and services in the predominant Christian area of Beirut which includes the beachfront hotel district, the business district and residential districts.

The announced purpose of today's wave of terror was to gain revenge for last week's kidnaping of a Phalangist journalist, Fuad Haddad, by unknown persons.

A day and night curfew, imposed Monday and maintained through the inauguration of Chehab Tuesday, was lifted at midnight. Shortly thereafter Phalangists began manning roadblocks in various parts of Beirut and trouble began.

The port area, where American warships are docked, is flanked on one side by the Phalangists and on the other by black-shirted Moslem Najjada party extremists.

Poultry Association Plans 4-Week School

LISBON — The Columbiana-Mahoning County poultry committee met Tuesday night at the Village Hall in Columbiana and planned a poultry school at the Memorial Building in Salem beginning Tuesday, Nov. 11, and continuing each Tuesday night for four weeks.

The annual poultry institute will be held Wednesday, Jan. 14, from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple in Salem.

A twilight meeting for next summer was also discussed.

The Columbiana County committee will meet Friday, Oct. 17, in the extension office at Lisbon to study trends of the industry, Floyd Lower, county extension agent, said.

Polio Cases In Detroit Hit 440, 12 Dead

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit has been hit by its worst outbreak of polio since the introduction of Salk polio vaccine. At least 440 cases have been reported this year, with 12 deaths.

The epidemic is greater in Detroit and its immediate suburbs than in any other section of the nation.

Health authorities say about 30 to 35 per cent of the cases have been paralytic, but that no paralytic cases and no deaths have been reported among persons who received the full three-shot treatment of polio vaccine.

Salk polio vaccine was introduced on a test basis in 1954 and pronounced extremely effective the following spring. The tests were conducted at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, only 30 miles from Detroit. One of the major producers is Parke, Davis & Co., a Detroit firm.

levy for 23 years which will provide for partial payment of the state grant and a 1.6-mill levy over a 21-year period to retire the bond issue.

The half-mill measure would result in payment of about $4,000 annually to the state, or about $92,000 for the grant of $326,464. The other measure is required to bring the district up to the 9 per cent bonded indebtedness needed to qualify for state aid.

The total result of the grant and district funds would be between $450,000 and $500,000 slated for increasing classroom facilities at the high school, Calcutta, Rogers, Elkton and West Point schools, VanHorne said.

The district will also vote on a renewal of a 2-mill operating levy, a 5-year measure which provides some $19,000 annually for school operating expenses. This levy, due to expire next year, was first passed in 1951 and was renewed in 1954.

VanHorne said the special measure was submitted under an emergency clause of a recent state law which enables school districts to file special issues up to 35 days prior to an election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said both propositions will appear on a single combined ballot and voters will show their preference with a single X.

protect states "against all federal encroachment."

The Little Rock School Board action could delay plans of Gov. Orval E. Faubus to reopen the four high schools next week on a private, segregated basis. Citizens of the Little Rock school district will vote Saturday on whether they want segregated or integrated schools, and Faubus has predicted an overwhelming vote for segregation.

Little Rock's three television stations are providing six hours of daily instruction by the regular teachers. First classes went on the air Monday.

At Van Buren, Ark., twin white boys were suspended Tuesday from the integrated high school. A school official said they refused to leave the school yard and return to classes after a reported spitting incident involving a Negro student. One of the twins said the Negro spat in his face. The Negro denied it.

Fire Damages Interior Of Tractor-Trailer Cab

The interior of a tractor - trailer cab owned by Tom's Express Co., Inc., of Weirton was destroyed by fire at 2:15 a. m. today on the Cannons Mills Hill.

About $500 to $600 damage resulted to the rig driven by Herman Frank Campbell of Weirton, according to Fire Chief Kenneth Mills of Glenmoor.

Mills said the interior of the cab was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived. Fourteen responded. One of the outside fuel tanks exploded but the tires and the motor were not damaged.

The 1956 model rig was loaded with coil steel. This is the second time this year an outfit owned by the Weirton firm has caught fire in the East Liverpool vicinity.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Slow Reader's Cause Takes Time

Barring the extreme mentally retarded, practically every child can learn to read. If your child seems to be duller than the average child of his class, you should not cease to try to find ways to help him learn to read. You and his teacher, seeing that he does fairly well making things with his hands, may be too ready to assume that he never will read much anyway, so why bother about reading?

By Garry Meyers

UNLESS HE learns to read he will be sadly handicapped all his life in many ways. He will be cut off from learning from the printed page, from gaining needed information, from enjoyment.

Suppose this very dull child succeeds pretty well at certain manual skills. These skills could provide a powerful motive for his learning to read in relation to them and for helping him improve at these skills.

If he reaches the upper grades or junior high, he may find certain vocational courses in which he could do some of the manual work. But he will hardly get very far without knowing how to read. More and more, he will discover that he must read in order to carry out printed directions for doing and making things in these courses.

SUPPOSE, as often happens, a child in his teens, who can barely read at all, is able to get a job in a factory and do pretty well at it. He may even become a fairly skilled mechanic. His chances to become a foreman, however, will be poor.

Besides, what will he have to think about as he labors mechanically, hour after hour? Yet his success at mechanical skills is a strong indication that he could learn to read under favorable conditions if he's encouraged.

Often the parents and teachers of the child 8, 10 or 13, who barely reads at all, give up too soon.

Usually, they expect him to read what his classmates read, which is wrong. Instead, if they discovered ways to induce him to read from materials used in the lower grades, even something from a first grade reader, he would gradually improve his reading skill.

Let me entreat the parent whose child does passing well at manual skills to provide him with catalogues and magazines which picture tools and equipment and tell of ways to use them. Many an illiterate youth has first learned to read from a mail-order catalogue.

Supreme Court Plans Study Of Annexation Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has taken a Lorain County annexation fight under study. Part of the land involved will be the site of a new Ford Motor Co. plant.

Lorain County commissioners have sanctioned Lorain's annexation of the area the Ford plant will occupy, but residents in the area have asked to be incorporated into a municipality called Brownhelm Village. Lower courts ruled against incorporation and proponents appealed to the state's highest court Tuesday.

Backers of incorporation say 97 per cent of the area's 270 residents favor incorporation rather than annexation to Lorain.

Lorain City Council has held off acceptance of the tract pending the outcome of the Supreme Court' ruling.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Energy Diet Helps Control Appetite

When you have a sizeable amount of weight to lose it is easy to understand that you dread being hungry. You may even feel that a reducing diet will rob you of some needed nutrients so that you will also feel weak and unlike yourself. In short, you may feel that to change your eating habits will be a major upheaval in your life.

Ida Jean Kain

If you have gone on diets before and felt hungry, that has strengthened your fear that reducing is an ordeal. What you need most of all is a whole fresh approach to reducing. You will not feel half starved. To begin with, you can reduce on 1,200 calories a day and that provides ample food. Truly, it won't seem like a diet.

And here is a promise: On protective nutrition, you will not feel weak or lose your vigor. . . . and as the burden of weight lessens, you will have more energy.

IT IS ALWAYS difficult to understand that a diet can provide better nutrition than fattening fare. That is true for the reason that each food included in a low calorie diet is chosen because it contributes its full quota of nutrients.

When calories are liited, it is imperative that all the calories count for good nutrition.

While it seems most unlikely, many heavyweights are suffering from malnutrition. On the wrong food habits, it's easy to be over - fed and poorly nourished. This brings on hidden hunger, the insatiable kind of hunger caused by faulty diet.

Although the craving is for the missing nutrients, your appetite is governed more by habit than requirements. So you continue to eat the foods you prefer, starches and assorted sweets, and choose mostly the foods that are low in protection. The upshot is you will still have the unsatisfied craving.

The signs of hidden hunger are this vague unsatisfied hunger and craving, flabby muscles and lessened energy.

There is also a physical factor involved in appetite. By overeating you stretched your food capacity. To get the picture, think of the stomach as being an elastic arrangement with walls that expand.

—:—

THE NICE SATISFIED feeling of having had enough to eat comes when tension is exerted on the muscular walls of the stomach. But since overeating stretches the stomach, it takes more food to fill the space and signify fullness.

On protective fare, it takes only a week or two on smaller meals to shrink the stomach down to size. Then you have the upper hand on appetite.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Slow Reader's Cause Takes Time

Barring the extreme mentally retarded, practically every child can learn to read. If your child seems to be duller than the average child of his class, you should not cease to try to find ways to help him learn to read. You and his teacher, seeing that he does fairly well making things with his hands, may be too ready to assume that he never will read much anyway, so why bother about reading?

By Garry Meyers

UNLESS HE learns to read he will be sadly handicapped all his life in many ways. He will be cut off from learning from the printed page, from gaining needed information, from enjoyment.

Suppose this very dull child succeeds pretty well at certain manual skills. These skills could provide a powerful motive for his learning to read in relation to them and for helping him improve at these skills.

If he reaches the upper grades or junior high, he may find certain vocational courses in which he could do some of the manual work. But he will hardly get very far without knowing how to read. More and more, he will discover that he must read in order to carry out printed directions for doing and making things in these courses.

SUPPOSE, as often happens, a child in his teens, who can barely read at all, is able to get a job in a factory and do pretty well at it. He may even become a fairly skilled mechanic. His chances to become a foreman, however, will be poor.

Besides, what will he have to think about as he labors mechanically, hour after hour? Yet his success at mechanical skills is a strong indication that he could learn to read under favorable conditions if he's encouraged.

Often the parents and teachers of the child 8, 10 or 13, who barely reads at all, give up too soon.

Usually, they expect him to read what his classmates read, which is wrong. Instead, if they discovered ways to induce him to read from materials used in the lower, grades, even something from a first grade reader, he would gradually improve his reading skill.

Let me entreat the parent whose child does passing well at manual skills to provide him with catalogues and magazines which picture tools and equipment and tell of ways to use them. Many an illiterate youth has first learned to read from a mail-order catalogue.

Supreme Court Plans Study Of Annexation Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has taken a Lorain County annexation fight under study. Part of the land involved will be the site of a new Ford Motor Co. plant.

Lorain County commissioners have sanctioned Lorain's annexation of the area the Ford plant will occupy, but residents in the area have asked to be incorporated into a municipality called Brownhelm Village. Lower courts ruled against incorporation and proponents appealed to the state's highest court Tuesday.

Backers of incorporation say 97 per cent of the area's 270 residents favor incorporation rather than annexation to Lorain.

Lorain City Council has held off acceptance of the tract pending the outcome of the Supreme Court' ruling.

Soviet Surgeon Creates Dog With Two Heads

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio reported today a Soviet surgeon has created a dog with two heads, one of them transplanted. The broadcast said the dog is feeling well and eats with both mouths.

The broadcast said an American Neuropathologist, Dr. A. David Gurevitsch of New York, saw the experiment. It took place at the Moscow Medical Institute.

Energy Diet Helps Control Appetite

When you have a sizeable amount of weight to lose it is easy to understand that you dread being hungry. You may even feel that a reducing diet will rob you of some needed nutrients so that you will also feel weak and unlike yourself. In short, you may feel that to change your eating habits will be a major upheaval in your life.

Ida Jean Kain

If you have gone on diets before and felt hungry, that has strengthened your fear that reducing is an ordeal. What you need most of all is a whole fresh approach to reducing. You will not feel half starved. To begin with, you can reduce on 1,200 calories a day and that provides ample food. Truly, it won't seem like a diet.

And here is a promise: On protective nutrition, you will not feel weak or lose your vigor. . . . and as the burden of weight lessens, you will have more energy.

IT IS ALWAYS difficult to understand that a diet can provide better nutrition than fattening fare. That is true for the reason that each food included in a low calorie diet is chosen because it contributes its full quota of nutrients.

When calories are liited, it is imperative that all the calories count for good nutrition.

While it seems most unlikely, many heavyweights are suffering from malnutrition, which means poor nutrition. On the wrong food habits, it's easy to be over - fed and poorly nourished. This brings on hidden hunger, the insatiable kind of hunger caused by faulty diet.

Although the craving is for the missing nutrients, your appetite is governed more by habit than requirements. So you continue to eat the foods you prefer, starches and assorted sweets, and choose mostly the foods that are low in protection. The upshot is you will still have the unsatisfied craving.

The signs of hidden hunger are this vague unsatisfied hunger and craving, flabby muscles and lessened energy.

There is also a physical factor involved in appetite. By overeating you stretched your food capacity. To get the picture, think of the stomach as being an elastic arrangement with walls that expand.

—:—

THE NICE SATISFIED feeling of having had enough to eat comes when tension is exerted on the muscular walls of the stomach. But since overeating stretches the stomach, it takes more food to fill the space and signify fullness.

On protective fare, it takes only a week or two on smaller meals to shrink the stomach down to size. Then you have the upper hand on appetite.

Governor, Ill In Hospital, May Spare Life Of Negro, 55

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A 55-year-old condemned Negro is waiting today for a call to a meeting with a hospitalized governor who may spare his life.

Gov. James E. Folsom, under treatment for a minor illness, is reportedly ready to save Jimmy Wilson from the electric chair. The Negro, an ex-convict who has served two previous terms for grand larceny, was sentenced to death for robbing an elderly white widow of $1.95. He is scheduled to be executed Oct. 24.

A jury sentenced Wilson to death for robbing an 82-year-old white widow at her home in Marion, Ala. Mrs. Estelle Barker testified the Negro choked and tried to rape her and threatened her life before taking the money. In Alabama, juries set penalties in capital cases.

"I didn't put my hands on her," said Wilson in denying he tried to rape the victim.

A capital offense is defined under Alabama law as the taking of money or other goods of value, regardless of the amount involved, from another person by force or threat of violence.

The Alabama Supreme Court recently denied a request for a rehearing of the case. The high court emphasized that the Negro was not simply convicted of taking $1.95, but of a crime of violence.

Folsom's office has received thousands of letters and telegrams asking for clemency for Wilson. Many of the letters contained checks for $1.95.

Gov. James E. Folsom, under treatment for a minor illness, is reportedly ready to save Jimmy Wilson from the electric chair. The Negro, an ex-convict who has served two previous terms for grand larceny, was sentenced to death for robbing an elderly white widow of $1.95. He is scheduled to be executed Oct. 24.

A jury sentenced Wilson to death for robbing an 82-year-old white widow at her home in Marion, Ala. Mrs. Estelle Barker testified the Negro choked and tried to rape her and threatened her life before taking the money. In Alabama, juries set penalties in capital cases.

"I didn't put my hands on her," said Wilson in denying he tried to rape the victim.

A capital offense is defined under Alabama law as the taking of money or other goods of value, regardless of the amount involved, from another person by force or threat of violence.

The Alabama Supreme Court recently denied a request for a rehearing of the case. The high court emphasized that the Negro was not simply convicted of taking $1.95, but of a crime of violence.

Folsom's office has received thousands of letters and telegrams asking for clemency for Wilson. Many of the letters contained checks for $1.95.

Ohio Professor Plans To Record Russian Language

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The cameras, sound recorders, projectors and other gadgets that fill this car would have landed the Ohio professor and his wife in jail during Stalin's days.

Today, the welcome mat is out for them as they roll into Moscow, and their trip has the blessings of the Kremlin.

Schmitz, a world famous linguist and chairman of the division of humanities at Ohio Northern, will use the recording tapes for classroom work at the Thomas R. Schoonover language laboratory at his school.

Schmitz and his wife have just completed a 10-day motor tour of Poland, recording Polish conversations and taking hundreds of pictures—all with the backing of the Polish ministries of culture and education.

The cameras, projectors and other equipment were long considered "spy equipment" in the Soviet Union, but the Kremlin is allowing the trip as part of a cultural exchange program with the United States.

James Duffy Speaker For Wellsville Kaycees

James Duffy of East Liverpool, former IBOP president, spoke on "Encyclicals of Labor" by Pope Leo XIII at a meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night.

A question-and-answer period followed. Earl Hitt, lecturer, was in charge.

Fred Baldassare reported on the Columbus Day broadcast over WOHI Oct. 12 at 6:30 p. m. The program will be on a district basis with James McGowan, district deputy, in charge.

The reorganization of the Desmond Holding Co. was deferred until a later date due to the absence of James Ross, grand knight.

Fred Morrow, deputy grand knight, presided.

Youth Good Athlete, Family Traditionalist

ETON, England (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Arthur Charles Valerian Wellesley is a good athlete and a family traditionalist.

He entered Eton College Tuesday, just as the males of his family have done for generations. Among the first things he looked over were the playing fields.

Young Wellesley's great, great-great-grandfather was the Duke of Wellington, who whipped Napoleon and said, "The Battle of Waterloo was won on the playing field of Eton."

Hula Hoops Banned

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — At times, the playground of Park Road Elementary School here looked like a halftime show. Everybody had a hula hoop, practically. After awhile it got confusing about which hula hoop was whose. Now the hoops are banned at the school. Officials say none of the 500 pupils seems to object.

Tragic Events Clouded Life Of Ex-Beauty Nedra Sanders

NEW YORK (AP) — Beauty and talent and sometimes riches—they served only at interludes to line with silver the great cloud of tragedy that hung over the life of Nedra Sanders.

Nedra, Mrs. Albert Broccoli since 1951, died of cancer Tuesday in Doctors Hospital. She was 39. Many of those years she spent trying to erase the memories of violent deaths which followed her like a fateful shadow.

At 18, she was married for the first time, to William M. Evans of Chicago. It lasted three years.

She sued for divorce in 1941. The same year she was selected queen of brunettes in a beauty contest. She became a sought-after cover girl.

Then Evans returned tragically to her life. Incensed when she refused to drop the divorce action, he slashed her with a knife and stabbed to death their 2-year-old son Douglas and her mother Mrs. William J. Sanders. She obtained a divorce after Evans was sent to the Illinois State Prison for life.

Nerda went to Hollywood. She married popular singer Buddy Clark and bore him a daughter, Penny, in 1942.

Clark was killed in a plane crash in 1949. He was the only casualty among the six passengers.

Less than a year later, Penny, then 7, ran across a Brentwood, Calif., street to meet a playmate. She was struck and killed by a car.

In 1951, Nedra married Albert Broccoli. They had two children, Anthony, 4, and Christina, 2. Broccoli enjoyed success as a movie producer in England and they lived in London.

But Nedra fell ill last May and returned here for treatment. It failed.

Services will be held here Thursday. Then her body will be shipped to Los Angeles for interment Saturday.

Choir At Midland Sings In Indiana

The Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of Midland, with the Rev. Milorad Dobrota director, has returned from South Bend, Ind., where it appeared over the weekend at St. Peter and Paul Church.

Forty - one members of the choir and the pastor of St. George Serbian Orthodox Church made the trip by chartered bus. A concert, with four other guest choirs from the South Bend area, was given Saturday night.

Sunday morning, the choir sang the responses during the divine liturgy in the church and Rev. Dobrota gave the sermon. He also spoke at the banquet given in honor of the visiting choirs that evening. His wife accompanied Rev. Dobrota.

The Rev. Vlastimar Tomich, pastor of the Aliquippa church, conducted the morning service Sunday in Rev. Dobrota's church. The Junior Choir, under the direction of Miss Judy Kukich, sang the responses. The junior choir will rehearse Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Serbian National Home.

National Postal Group's Officers Reject Pay Hike

A resolution proposing a 10 per cent increase was introduced by William F. Jennings of Lynn, Mass., at the association's convention. He said it was justified because all postal employes had received a 10 per cent hike.

But Paul A. Nagle, president, and Wallace A. Legge, industrial secretary, both of Washington, asked that the proposal be shelved. They said the higher salaries would force an increase in union dues.

Nagle's salary is $11,500 a year. Other national officers get $10,000.

Possibly the highest derrick in the world is at Calais, France. It is used to extract marble and can hoist 50 tons up to 200 feet.

Ohio Professor Plans To Record Russian Language

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The cameras, sound recorders, projectors and other gadgets that fill this car would have landed the Ohio professor and his wife in jail during Stalin's days.

Today, the welcome mat is out for them as they roll into Moscow, and their trip has the blessings of the Kremlin.

Schmitz, a world famous linguist and chairman of the division of humanities at Ohio Northern, will use the recording tapes for classroom work at the Thomas R. Schoonover language laboratory at his school.

Schmitz and his wife have just completed a 10-day motor tour of Poland, recording Polish conversations and taking hundreds of pictures—all with the backing of the Polish ministries of culture and education.

The cameras, projectors and other equipment were long considered "spy equipment" in the Soviet Union, but the Kremlin is allowing the trip as part of a cultural exchange program with the United States.

James Duffy Speaker For Wellsville Kaycees

James Duffy of East Liverpool, former IBOP president, spoke on "Encyclicals of Labor" by Pope Leo XIII at a meeting of Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507 Tuesday night.

A question-and-answer period followed. Earl Hitt, lecturer, was in charge.

Fred Baldassare reported on the Columbus Day broadcast over WOHI Oct. 12 at 6:30 p. m. The program will be on a district basis with James McGowan, district deputy, in charge.

The reorganization of the Desmond Holding Co. was deferred until a later date due to the absence of James Ross, grand knight.

Fred Morrow, deputy grand knight, presided.

Youth Good Athlete, Family Traditionalist

ETON, England (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Arthur Charles Valerian Wellesley is a good athlete and a family traditionalist.

He entered Eton College Tuesday, just as the males of his family have done for generations. Among the first things he looked over were the playing fields.

Young Wellesley's great, great-great-grandfather was the Duke of Wellington, who whipped Napoleon and said, "The Battle of Waterloo was won on the playing field of Eton."

Hula Hoops Banned

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — At times, the playground of Park Road Elementary School here looked like a halftime show. Everybody had a hula hoop, practically. After awhile it got confusing about which hula hoop was whose. Now the hoops are banned at the school. Officials say none of the 500 pupils seems to object.

Tragic Events Clouded Life Of Ex-Beauty Nedra Sanders

NEW YORK (AP) — Beauty and talent and sometimes riches—they served only at interludes to line with silver the great cloud of tragedy that hung over the life of Nedra Sanders.

Nedra, Mrs. Albert Broccoli since 1951, died of cancer Tuesday in Doctors Hospital. She was 39. Many of those years she spent trying to erase the memories of violent deaths which followed her like a fateful shadow.

At 18, she was married for the first time, to William M. Evans of Chicago. It lasted three years. She sued for divorce in 1941. The same year she was selected queen of brunettes in a beauty contest. She became a sought-after cover girl.

Then Evans returned tragically to her life. Incensed when she refused to drop the divorce action, he slashed her with a knife and stabbed to death their 2-year-old son Douglas and her mother Mrs. William J. Sanders. She obtained a divorce after Evans was sent to the Illinois State Prison for life.

Nerda went to Hollywood. She married popular singer Buddy Clark and bore him a daughter, Penny, in 1942.

Clark was killed in a plane crash in 1949. He was the only casualty among the six passengers.

Less than a year later, Penny, then 7, ran across a Brentwood, Calif., street to meet a playmate. She was struck and killed by a car.

In 1951, Nedra married Albert Broccoli. They had two children, Anthony, 4, and Christina, 2. Broccoli enjoyed success as a movie producer in England and they lived in London.

But Nedra fell ill last May and returned here for treatment. It failed.

Services will be held here Thursday. Then her body will be shipped to Los Angeles for interment Saturday.

Choir At Midland Sings In Indiana

The Dr. Laza Kostich Choir of Midland, with the Rev. Milorad Dobrota director, has returned from South Bend, Ind., where it appeared over the weekend at St. Peter and Paul Church.

Forty - one members of the choir and the pastor of St. George Serbian Orthodox Church made the trip by chartered bus. A concert, with four other guest choirs from the South Bend area, was given Saturday night.

Sunday morning, the choir sang the responses during the divine liturgy in the church and Rev. Dobrota gave the sermon. He also spoke at the banquet given in honor of the visiting choirs that evening. His wife accompanied Rev. Dobrota.

The Rev. Vlastimar Tomich, pastor of the Aliquippa church, conducted the morning service Sunday in Rev. Dobrota's church. The Junior Choir, under the direction of Miss Judy Kukich, sang the responses. The junior choir will rehearse Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Serbian National Home.

National Postal Group's Officers Reject Pay Hike

A resolution proposing a 10 per cent increase was introduced by William F. Jennings of Lynn, Mass., at the association's convention. He said it was justified because all postal employes had received a 10 per cent hike.

But Paul A. Nagle, president, and Wallace A. Legge, industrial secretary, both of Washington, asked that the proposal be shelved. They said the higher salaries would force an increase in union dues.

Nagle's salary is $11,500 a year. Other national officers get $10,000.

Possibly the highest derrick in the world is at Calais, France. It is used to extract marble and can hoist 50 tons up to 200 feet.

By JOHN CROSBY

'The Critic Is Important'

They love us; they hate us but in either case, they sure harbor opinions about us.

John Crosby

Critics were in season again last week and we got divided notices. At CBS, Louis G. Cowan, the president of the CBS television network, said: "I ask only that there be responsible criticism responsibily written." Well, that seems fair enough except that it presumes some degree of responsible programming on the part of the networks. It's awfully hard to be responsible or critical about "Haggis Baggis" (which is departing).

Mr. Cowan also declared:

"There are occasions when critics or reporters of the television scene unthinkingly can destroy the people on whom they sit in judgment. And there are those who enjoy watching these executions just as much as the knitting needle crowds who gathered to watch the guillotines at the time of the French Revolution.

"This is not a very healthy appeal. Fortunately, not many writers pander to this aspect of our society."

THAT'S A remarkably honest statement — remarkable, I hasten to add, only in that I didn't know network presidents admitted critics had that much power.

Executioners? Us? Why, some high network brass just got finished telling the Fund for the Republic (which is surveying us) that TV critics were a joke, that they had no influence whatsoever. As I say, we're getting divided notices.

Variety, for instance, reports that "many in high places throughout the industry are convinced that the dailies and the mags are determined to utilize the (quiz) scandal in perpetuating their anti-TV gripes and bias.

"What NBC board chairman Robert Sarnoff cautioned about several months ago in rapping knuckles of the dailies for some vigorous anti-TV slanting is now seen bearing some full - blown fruition."

Badly garbled as that metaphor got, it still managed to arouse the alarm of Oliver Treyz, president of ABC-TV, who hastily dissociated himself, his network and the rest of the industry from Mr. Sarnoff.

ON A CLOSED-CIRCUIT telecast seen by TV editors across the country, Mr. Treyz said:

"Unfortunately, some people seem to have the impression that the spokesman was speaking for the industry. Those hard words did not speak for ABC . . . . We frequently disagree with you but we don't question your integrity or your motives.

"Our respect for the opinions of the press and our willingness to heed its counsel has been a substantial factor in this network's maturing."

Well, that's three networks heard from, all to some degree admitting that critics displace a little water. But then just when we started puffing out our chests a little bit there came an article in a new magazine called Madison Avenue which asserts that the New York critics live in a dream world, that the real grass roots opinions you can get your teeth into and trust are written in Wichita.

"There's a lot to be learned from the opinions of the critics in the hinterlands," this piece ended. "Don't hesitate to head for the hills those mornings when the Times and the Trib and the News make unpleasant reading. You'll find the critics are a lot friendlier out yonder."

IT'S A NICE thesis, except that the piece didn't support its own conclusions. The grass roots critics aren't necessarily closer to the Neilsen ratings than the New York critics (even if it mattered, which it doesn't).

Meanwhile, J. P. Miller, a TV playwright whose "The Days of Wine and Roses" will be on Playhouse 90 Oct. 2, asks:

"How many critics constantly read plays—good plays—to improve their taste and expand their theatrical experience? How many critics have taken or are taking courses in acting, playwriting or directing, the better to weigh the contribution of these factors to the total drama?"

Aw now, come on, J. P.! How much drama do you suppose there is for a TV critic to watch? Drama criticism is only a small part of our job.

"Calling critics idiots," thunders Mr. Miller in conclusion, "may seem to be harmless sport, a naive eruption of hostility like calling the umpire blind; but under it all flows a serious current which everyone subsisting on the arts must recognize. The critic is important."

He must be to get all this attention.

New Gas Line Project Starts

Cost Set At $89,000 For City Installation

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. has started laying a new $89,000 pipeline to improve cold weather gas service in the northeast section of the city, the utility announced today.

Over 10,000 feet of new 6-and 10-inch pipe will be installed to bolster gas deliveries to some 500 customers in Forsyth Pl., Dixonville and Beechwood districts, W. T. McIntyre, area manager, said.

"A bottleneck developed on the existing lines during past winters as the area expanded," he said, requiring the new facility.

From a pressure regulating station at Springdale and Riverview Sts., the line runs east on Springdale to Jennings St., north on Jennings to McKennon Ave., east on McKennon to Anderson Blvd., then north on Anderson to Park Way and out Park Way to a regulator station just south of Forsyth Pl.

The project includes construction of two pressure regulating stations along the route. The first will be built on the Koerber property near Park Way and Anderson Blvd. and the second at the rear of the Robert F. Beatty property below Forsyth Pl., McIntyre said.

The pipeline is scheduled for completion about Nov. 1. McIntyre, R. J. Frame of Wheeling, district foreman, and Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool foreman, will supervise construction.

Recent improvements to pipelines in Manufacturers' central pipeline and storage network paved the way for the local improvement, the official said.

Completed earlier this summer was a $540,000 pipeline from Hickory to Primrose in Western Pennsylvania. Prior to that the company laid a new and larger $621,000 market line from Primrose to Frankfort Springs. Three feeder lines carry gas from Frankfort Springs into the Chester - East Liverpool area. One of those was overhauled recently to transport more gas here, McIntyre said.

Gas coming into Chester is then moved across the river and into the local delivery system. The new line to the northeast section of town is a replacement in that system, he added.

False Alarm Of Boys Calls Out 3 Fire Trucks

Three trucks answered a false alarm turned in by two boys from Box 16 at Ravine St. and Bradshaw Ave. at 1:20 a. m. today, city firemen said.

Firemen said a woman who lives nearby spotted the youths as they were pulling the alarm. It is possible she knows them, firemen said. After turning in the alarm, the youths ran up Bradshaw and then turned onto Oak St.

A-Sub Seawolf Sets Under Water Record

BOSTON (AP) — The nuclear submarine Seawolf has remained submerged more than a month and a half.

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says Seawolf submerged Aug. 5 and by Monday had set a record of 48 days under water — surpassing the submerged records of two other atomic subs, Skate's 31 days and Nautilus' 28 days.

Rickover, speaking Tuesday at a chamber of commerce luncheon, left the impression Seawolf was still under water. He spoke of the 48-day record and predicted Seawolf would surpass that mark. He did not say where Seawolf is or what her mission is.

Arraignments will be held next week, with trials to follow.

Not For Adults

Woman, 34, Killed

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Olive Armer, 34, of near Springfield, was killed early today when her car failed to make a curve and struck a tree at the intersection of two Clark County roads just southeast of here.

GARRY MOORE challenges JAYNE MEADOWS, BETSY PALMER, BILL CULLEN and HENRY MORGAN with a fresh supply of uproarious secrets on television's most popular panel show

LAST LOAD OF '58 PLYMOUTHS REACHES DEALERS; TO BE PART OF END-OF-MODEL CLEARANCE SALE

Late summer, traditionally the thriftiest time to buy a new car, is even better this year at Plymouth dealers all over the U.S. Prices are down to the year's absolute lowest, and, thanks to the continued demand for good used cars, trade-in prices on old cars are still at a peak. RESULT: deals are being made that mean today's buyer really gets a bargain.

He gets longer years of satisfaction, too—and eventually a higher trade. Plymouth's Silver Dart Styling has captured awards from every automotive critic, and will be new for years. At the same time, Plymouth's exhilarating performance and sports-car handling make the sports-car boys look to their laurels. Every car in Plymouth's End-of-Model Clearance Sale includes famous Torsion-Aire Ride, at no extra cost, Total-Contact Brakes, electric windshield wipers and other features that are Plymouth's alone in the low-price field.

No more spectacular bargains like these will be available when current stocks are sold. The best buy of the year is at your Plymouth dealer's now. Get there fast!

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

'The Critic Is Important'

They love us; they hate us but in either case, they sure harbor opinions about us.

John Crosby

Critics were in season again last week and we got divided notices. At CBS, Louis G. Cowan, the president of the CBS television network, said: "I ask only that there be responsible criticism responsibly written." Well, that seems fair enough except that it presumes some degree of responsible programming on the part of the networks. It's awfully hard to be responsible or critical about "Haggis Baggis" (which is departing).

Mr. Cowan also declared:

"There are occasions when critics or reporters of the television scene unthinkingly can destroy the people on whom they sit in judgment. And there are those who enjoy watching these executions just as much as the knitting needle crowds who gathered to watch the guillotines at the time of the French Revolution.

"This is not a very healthy appeal. Fortunately, not many writers pander to this aspect of our society."

THAT'S A remarkably honest statement — remarkable, I hasten to add, only in that I didn't know network presidents admitted critics had that much power.

Executioners? Us? Why, some high network brass just got finished telling the Fund for the Republic (which is surveying us) that TV critics were a joke, that they had no influence whatsoever. As I say, we're getting divided notices.

Variety, for instance, reports that "many in high places throughout the industry are convinced that the dailies and the mags are determined to utilize the (quiz) scandal in perpetuating their anti-TV gripes and bias.

"What NBC board chairman Robert Sarnoff cautioned about several months ago in rapping knuckles of the dailies for some vigorous anti-TV slanting is now seen bearing some full - blown fruition."

Badly garbled as that metaphor got, it still managed to arouse the alarm of Oliver Treyz, president of ABC-TV, who hastily dissociated himself, his network and the rest of the industry from Mr. Sarnoff.

ON A CLOSED-CIRCUIT telecast seen by TV editors across the country, Mr. Treyz said:

"Unfortunately, some people seem to have the impression that the spokesman was speaking for the industry. Those hard words did not speak for ABC .... We frequently disagree with you but we don't question your integrity or your motives.

"Our respect for the opinions of the press and our willingness to heed its counsel has been a substantial factor in this network's maturing."

Well, that's three networks heard from, all to some degree admitting that critics displace a little water. But then just when we started puffing out our chests a little bit there came an article in a new magazine called Madison Avenue which asserts that the New York critics live in a dream world, that the real grass roots opinions you can get your teeth into and trust are written in Wichita.

"There's a lot to be learned from the opinions of the critics in the hinterlands," this piece ended. "Don't hesitate to head for the hills those mornings when the Times and the Trib and the News make unpleasant reading. You'll find the critics are a lot friendlier out yonder."

IT'S A NICE thesis, except that the piece didn't support its own conclusions. The grass roots critics aren't necessarily closer to the Neilsen ratings than the New York critics (even if it mattered, which it doesn't).

Meanwhile, J. P. Miller, a TV playwright whose "The Days of Wine and Roses" will be on Playhouse 90 Oct. 2, asks:

"How many critics constantly read plays—good plays—to improve their taste and expand their theatrical experience? How many critics have taken or are taking courses in acting, playwriting or directing, the better to weigh the contribution of these factors to the total drama?"

Aw now, come on, J. P.! How much drama do you suppose there is for a TV critic to watch? Drama criticism is only a small part of our job.

"Calling critics idiots," thunders Mr. Miller in conclusion, "may seem to be harmless sport, a naive eruption of hostility like calling the umpire blind; but under it all flows a serious current which everyone subsisting on the arts must recognize. The critic is important."

He must be to get all this attention.

New Gas Line Project Starts

Cost Set At $89,000 For City Installation

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. has started laying a new $89,000 pipeline to improve cold weather gas service in the northeast section of the city, the utility announced today.

Over 10,000 feet of new 6-and 10-inch pipe will be installed to bolster gas deliveries to some 500 customers in Forsyth Pl., Dixonville and Beechwood districts, W. T. McIntyre, area manager, said.

"A bottleneck developed on the existing lines during past winters as the area expanded," he said, requiring the new facility.

From a pressure regulating station at Springdale and Riverview Sts., the line runs east on Springdale to Jennings St., north on Jennings to McKennon Ave., east on McKennon to Anderson Blvd., then north on Anderson to Park Way and out Park Way to a regulator station just south of Forsyth Pl.

The project includes construction of two pressure regulating stations along the route. The first will be built on the Koerber property near Park Way and Anderson Blvd. and the second at the rear of the Robert F. Beatty property below Forsyth Pl., McIntyre said.

The pipeline is scheduled for completion about Nov. 1. McIntyre, R. J. Frame of Wheeling, district foreman, and Harold R. Sneddon, East Liverpool foreman, will supervise construction.

Recent improvements to pipelines in Manufacturers' central pipeline and storage network paved the way for the local improvement, the official said.

Completed earlier this summer was a $540,000 pipeline from Hickory to Primrose in Western Pennsylvania. Prior to that the company laid a new and larger $621,000 market line from Primrose to Frankfort Springs. Three feeder lines carry gas from Frankfort Springs into the Chester - East Liverpool area. One of those was overhauled recently to transport more gas here, McIntyre said.

Gas coming into Chester is then moved across the river and into the local delivery system. The new line to the northeast section of town is a replacement in that system, he added.

False Alarm Of Boys Calls Out 3 Fire Trucks

Three trucks answered a false alarm turned in by two boys from Box 16 at Ravine St. and Bradshaw Ave. at 1:20 a. m. today, city firemen said.

Firemen said a woman who lives nearby spotted the youths as they were pulling the alarm. It is possible she knows them, firemen said. After turning in the alarm, the youths ran up Bradshaw and then turned onto Oak St.

A-Sub Seawolf Sets Under Water Record

BOSTON (AP) — The nuclear submarine Seawolf has remained submerged more than a month and a half.

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says Seawolf submerged Aug. 5 and by Monday had set a record of 48 days under water — surpassing the submerged records of two other atomic subs, Skate's 31 days and Nautilus' 28 days.

Rickover, speaking Tuesday at a chamber of commerce luncheon, left the impression Seawolf was still under water. He spoke of the 48-day record and predicted Seawolf would surpass that mark. He did not say where Seawolf is or what her mission is.

Arraignments will be held next week, with trials to follow.

Not For Adults

Woman, 34, Killed

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Olive Armer, 34, of near Springfield, was killed early today when her car failed to make a curve and struck a tree at the intersection of two Clark County roads just southeast of here.

When Ohio Votes On Nov. 4

2 Of 7 Court Seats Will Be Filled

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two of the seven seats on the bench of the Ohio Supreme Court will be filled by voters in the November election.

The seats now are held by one Democrat and one Republican. Both seek re-election. One term begins Jan.. 1, the other Jan. 2. Terms are for six years. Annual salary is $18,000.

Seeking to return to the bench for the Jan. 1 term is Judge Charles B. Zimmerman of Springfield, a 25-year veteran of the state's highest tribunal. He is a Democrat. Opposing him is Willard D. Campbell of Columbus, formerly of Cambridge, a Republican.

The Republican bidding for re-election is Judge James Garfield Stewart, former Cincinnati mayor. Opposing him for the Jan. 2 term will be Democrat Merrill D. Brothers, Columbus attorney.

The Supreme Court, essentially, is an appeals court, but it also interprets the meaning of the laws passed by the Legislature and decides whether the laws are proper in light of the Ohio Constitution.

Candidates for the court are nominated in party primaries, but in the general election nominees names appear on a non-partisan ballot which does not designate their party affiliation.

Two of the holdovers on the court, including Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt, are Democrats. Three are Republicans.

Judge Zimmerman, now 66, originally was appointed to fill a vacancy on the high court in 1933. A year later, he was elected to his first full term. He now is completing his fourth full term.

He is a World War I veteran and a graduate of Wittenberg College and Harvard Law School. He is a past state governor of the Society of Colonial Wars and a past state president of the Sons of the American Revolution. He is a Lutheran and a member of the Moose, Eagles and Knights of Pythias.

Campbell, 57, is a former Guernsey County prosecutor, judge and state senator and, from 1946 to 1953, directed work of the Ohio Bureau of Code Revision which streamlined Ohio's entire code of laws. This is his fourth bid for a Supreme Court seat.

He was supreme governor of the Loyal Order of Moose in 1953-54. Before that he was state president of the order. He is a graduate of Muskingum College and Yale University Law School.

Judge Stewart, now 77, is seeking his third term on the state's highest bench. He first was appointed in 1947 after an unsuccessful bid for the governorship in 1944 against Frank J. Lausche.

Twenty years ago he first became Cincinnati mayor. He served in that office until his appointment to the court. He is a graduate of Kenyon College and Cincinnati Law School. He later taught law courses at the Cincinnati institution.

Brothers, 45, is making his second bid for the high court. He was an assistant attorney general shortly after he was admitted to the bar. World War II interrupted his education, but he returned to resume his law studies and was admitted to the bar in 1948.

A graduate of Ohio State University, he is a member of the American Legion, the Elks and Eagles.

Rotary Club Potential Cited In Talk By District Governor

The vast potential of the Rotary Club in contributing toward international understanding and its powerful influence in Civic improvement programs, when properly channeled with a united effort, was stressed in a brief talk by Gervis St. Brady, governor of District 665 Rotary International, following a noon luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Brady urged the club to "harness its power toward evaluating the city's problems" and cited several possible projects which the club should "consider a challenge."

Past president of the Canton club and active in various community projects there for several years, he has been a Rotarian 11 years.

Brady termed the new international president, Cliff Randall of Milwaukee, "the most dynamic leader in several years" and touched on a few of the goals he has set for Rotary in the coming year.

In urging members to correspond with overseas clubs in an effort to promote better international understanding, he cited the growing programs of many clubs in sending tape recordings and slides of a club's activities to many of 1,000 overseas units which are "hungry for contacts."

The city group was complimented because of its "excellent" attendance record for a club of its size and he thanked club officials for having records prepared for his convenience.

He suggested the club always remember that the Rotary example is "service above self," in stressing participation in helping to solve the city's problems, and pointed out that "It's in your hands," meaning the future of the club.

He was introduced by Dean Wilhelm, president, who presided. Wilhelm reminded members of a one-day District Institute on Rotary information and extension to be held Thursday at Minerva. Besides himself, others scheduled to attend are Bill Cooper, Dr. Hershel Rubin, Dick Beatty and Harold Barth, secretary.

Out-of-town guests present were from Midland, Lisbon and Youngstown.

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — The 3,111-ton British freighter Boswell put into port today with a blazing cargo of South American rosewood logs, cotton and peanuts. Firemen took eight hours to control the flames.

Truck Drivers' Local Willing To Take Wage Slash

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Teamsters Union local of drivers for six industrial catering companies has agreed to take a substantial cut in weekly wage minimums and commissions to keep their employers "from going out of business."

The catering firms have been hard-hit by the recession-reduced employment in the factories where they bring snacks and meals to employes.

The new agreement, affecting about 130 employes, at first was rejected by the union membership, 65-17.

Later some members authorized their stewards to go ahead with the salary-cut plan, said William Long, vice president of Bakery Drivers Local 52.

Under the new agreement, the weekly wage minimum for driver-salesman was reduced from $80 to $73 and their 20 per cent commission on total weekly sales over $400 was cut to a commission of 16½ per cent on weekly sales over $365.

United Auto Workers End Ford Plant Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — United Auto Workers ended their strike today at the Ford Motor Co.'s Walton Hills stamping plant.

The plant, which employs 2,700 hourly rated workers, was among Ford plants all over the country struck last week shortly before agreement was reached in Detroit on a new contract. The local workers stayed out pending settlement of local issues in the new contract.

Ford workers are still out at two big engine plants in the Cleveland area.

AFL-CIO Group Endorses DiSalle; Saxbe Only GOP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic gubernatorial candidate Michael V. DiSalle and all but one of the other Democratic state candidates have been endorsed by the Ohio AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe was the only Republican to receive the blessing of the state labor political body.

DiSalle and Democratic senatorial candidate Stephen M. Young were praised for their announced stand against the proposed Ohio constitutional amendment to regulate labor contracts and their position favoring the payment of supplemental unemployment benefits.

In a statement Tuesday the committee said:

"It is unfortunate that Gov. O'Neill is supporting the anti-union shop proposal which is designed solely to weaken the unions of Ohio workers. In view of the record of Gov. C. William O'Neill as a member of the Legislature and as governor, his backing of another piece of anti-labor legislation is not out of character."

Truck Drivers' Local Willing To Take Wage Slash

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Teamsters Union local of drivers for six industrial catering companies has agreed to take a substantial cut in weekly wage minimums and commissions to keep their employers "from going out of business."

The catering firms have been hard-hit by the recession-reduced employment in the factories where they bring snacks and meals to employes.

The new agreement, affecting about 130 employes, at first was rejected by the union membership, 65-17.

Later some members authorized their stewards to go ahead with the salary-cut plan, said William Long, vice president of Bakery Drivers Local 52.

Under the new agreement, the weekly wage minimum for driver-salesman was reduced from $80 to $73 and their 20 per cent commission on total weekly sales over $400 was cut to a commission of 16½ per cent on weekly sales over $365.

Ike Suffered Heart Attack Three Years Ago Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big garrison flag wasn't flying that gloomy Saturday morning three years ago today. We didn't know it then but it meant President Eisenhower had suffered a heart attack.

Today, his 68th birthday less than a month away, the President is ruddy and apparently much refreshed after 3½ weeks of a lot of golf by the windswept sea at Newport, R.I.

Today most folks never would guess just by looking at Eisenhower that since the heart seizure in Denver exactly three years ago he also had brushed close to death with ileitis in June 1956.

They wouldn't guess, either, that last November he was hit by a slight stroke which affected his speech for a while.

But if you are a reporter who has covered Eisenhower's activities since he was nominated for the presidency in July 1952, then you know that this man's appearance means little—indeed, it can be most deceiving—so far as the state of his health is concerned.

Take, for example, that Saturday morning in Denver—Sept. 24, 1955—when the big garrison flag wasn't flying in front of the President's vacation office at Lowry Air Force Base.

To sleepy-eyed newsmen arriving at the base at 7:30 a.m. from a downtown hotel, that at the moment was good news. It meant they were on hand ahead of the early-rising Eisenhower—and that takes some doing—to see him arrive from the Lafayette Street home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. John S. Doud.

A medium-size American flag fluttered from the staff in the murky early autumn weather. But a much larger garrison banner always was run up in its place the minute the President arrived, and it had not been hoisted yet.

Time passed, and still no word the President was on his way.

The newsmen pondered the possibilities, but the delay wasn't disturbing. Apparently the President, for once, was coming to the office a bit later. Or maybe he had decided to skip the office and go directly to the golf course.

Not until midafternoon did they learn the real reason the garrison flag wasn't run up.

Russia's Vacation-Land Unsuitable To Americans

By BEVERLY DEEPE
Written for The Associated Press

Yes, there is a vacation-land in the U.S.S.R. But most Americans might think it easier to just keep working than to play the Soviet way.

While touring the Soviet Union as a member of an American student group, I visited a typical vacation camp: the Gorelnik tourist base in the mountains outside the Central Asian city of Alma-Ata.

At 7 a.m., the Soviet national anthem blared from loud-speakers, blasting snoozers out of the sleeping bags for 10 minutes of directed calisthenics outdoors.

Campers whipped their beds into shape and dashed to the mountain stream for a quick wash before reporting at 8 a.m. for a breakfast of rice, chicken, bread, butter and tea.

Then campers hustled out for a morning hike into the mountains, returning at 2 p.m. for a lunch of potatoes, beefsteak, soup, rolls, butter, fruit compote and tea.

Not everybody went on the hike. Some were already on other hikes of two to seven days into the high glacier peaks.

There was time out for a three-hour rest in the afternoon, "baths" in dishpans of water in the so-called "shower house," and then table tennis, pool, dominoes or volleyball before dinner.

Dancing and a movie followed dinner. Lights went out at 11 p.m. and exhausted vacationers tumbled into their sleeping bags.

No alcoholic beverages are allowed.

The round of hiking and relaxation sparked excitement only when a group came back from a long mountain hike.

Then the group commander saluted the camp director with a report and the welcoming party enlisted for the occasion whooped a rousing cheer to "physical-cul."

Sanitary conditions in the tourist camp were primitive. There were four lavatories for women—one had a broken faucet, one a broken basin, the third had a clogged drain and the fourth worked but had a continually running faucet.

Other toilet facilities were primitive and unimaginably fouled.

Dishes were washed in small kettles of cold water; hot water was available only for tea and coffee.

Here, Russians play as hard during vacations as they work the rest of the year. The picture is completely different from the free-moving, easy-going vacations of the American family.

Both husband and wife in the Soviet family often work and must frequently spend their vacations in separate places at different times. Children go to country summer camps or daylong programs in city Palaces of Culture from the end of May to the beginning of September.

An air of military discipline prevails in the children's camps.

Observers who have seen both the Soviet youth program and the Nazi youth camps in Hitler Germany say there are remarkable similarities.

Vacations don't cost much in the Soviet Union. Campers at Gorelnik pay 30 rubles a day ($3 at tourist exchange rate), but the government and trade unions pay part of the money.

Hunt Resumes For 5 Pistols

Stolen Saw Found In Quiz Of Robbery

EAST PALESTINE — City and Niles police today renewed a search for five of seven pistols stolen from the Sports Center last week following recovery Tuesday of a chain saw confiscated by Pennsylvania police in investigation of an armed robbery.

One of the stolen weapons was found in the possession of four men charged with the holdup of a Beaver Falls area grocery store Friday night and another was found at the home of a brother of one.

The chain saw, valued at $400, was found by Pennsylvania State Police in the car of Oliver Holbrook, 26, of Fallston, who is being held in jail here on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen goods. He was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Monday by Mayor Paul Merwin when evidence showed one of the stolen guns was found in his room.

The chain saw, along with 150 feet of new rope found in the car, were stolen last month from a Niles tree service firm. Holbrook Monday said he formerly worked for a tree service company but yesterday denied stealing the item.

Police Chief C. R. Lotze and Niles Police Chief John Ross yesterday conferred with authorities at Beaver and Rochester and questioned the other four men at the Beaver County Jail.

The chain saw, confiscated by state police over the weekend, was identified by Chief Ross. He and Chief Lotze today are pressing the hunt for the other guns in the Niles area.

Bound over to the County Grand Jury on charges of armed robbery were Thomas Holbrook of Negley R. D. 1 and Delmar Nickels, Guy Nickels and Edgel Cline, all of Niles.

Weirton Man Bids $150 Monthly Rent

A contract for leasing over an acre of ground near the sewage disposal plant was awarded Angelo Georgetti of 10th St., Weirton, Tuesday afternoon by the Wellsville Board of Control.

Georgetti, manager of the Parsons Coal Co. and owner of the Liverpool Express, Inc., trucking firm, won the contract on a bid of $150 a month. The lease is for 15 years with a 15-year option for renewal.

Georgetti said he plans to use the site, located between 15th and 16th Sts. and sided by the Ohio River and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks, as a river-rail terminal.

Various types of supplies for industries will be handled, including pipe, steel and other bulk items, he said. Georgetti's bid was the only one received by the board, consisting of Mayor William J. Shoub and Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson.

This was the second time the land was offered for lease. The first time it was advertised it was not stipulated that the lessee was to provide his own access to the property.

At that time Georgetti offered $100 a month and Mrs. Hilda Moore of Main St., Wellsville, bid $150 but stipulated that the city was to provide the access.

The bids were refused and the land readvertised. Frank Moore, husband of Mrs. Moore, and Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara appeared before City Council and asked that her bid be accepted. O'Hara said that it was assumed the city was to provide access when it advertised the land. Moore said a ready-mix cement plant was planned.

Until Agreement Is Reached

Lead, Zinc Quotas Fixed

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States is imposing quotas on lead and zinc until some international agreement can be reached on control of world production. These metals join today many other commodities on which such world pacts are either in operation or sought from time to time.

Included are sugar, coffee, cocoa, rubber, tin and copper. This nation also has voluntary import quotas on oil. Many other lands have their own import quotas — some to protect home industries, some to safeguard their currencies.

The object of international production agreements is to control the supply — and thus the price.

For example, 40 nations are meeting in a United Nations conference in Geneva seeking to stabilize sugar production. This country stabilizes the price of sugar by raising or lowering the amount that can be imported.

Thus do governments seek to regulate the law of supply and demand. They fear that if left to itself the law would lead to deflated prices for the home producers when world supply is over abundant.

President Eisenhower's imposition of the lead and zinc quotas comes just before he entertains the foreign ministers of 20 Latin American nations who have come to this country to discuss their problems — with economic complaints high on the agenda.

Mexico, Peru and Bolivia, exporters of lead and zinc, aren't likely to take kindly to the loss of part of their U. S. market. Canada and Australia also are protesting.

Metal men have been meeting in London to seek a pact on international production and on export controls. Copper was included for a time, and then dropped as activity picked up in that recession-hit industry.

Latin American companies have made repeated attempts to set up a workable plan for withholding coffee from the market when supplies get unwieldy. Just as they seemed to be making progress, African coffee producers' new trees began to bear. Once more the coffee market was upset and prices tumbled.

The Latin American and the African producers are now seeking a pact which will limit exports enough to stabilize the price.

Most folk praise the law of supply and demand. But a lot of governments and industries try to tinker with it.

Amount Of Land Ohio Needs For Lake To Be Known Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — How much land the state will need to build a new lake about the size of Buckeye Lake will be known within a month.

The project, long discussed in and out of the State Legislature, is the controversial water supply reservoir in Gernsey County. In all, the state will need between 8,000 and 9,000 acres of land, the Department of Natural Resources estimates.

The project shows up in the list of six submitted to the Division of Capital Planning for a six-year program beginning next July 1. The department's water division proposes to go ahead with the project quickly—if money is made available. Capital improvements come from surplus state money.

Total estimated cost is $3,652,329, which includes $700,000 already appropriated by the Legislature. A dam five miles north of Cambridge near where U. S. 21 crosses Salt Fork Creek would create a 3,000-acre lake. Rest of the land would be used for recreation purposes.

Rehabilitation of 10 locks and dams, which the federal government is abandoning in the Muskingum River between Marietta and Zanesville, would cost $500,000 and be spread over a period of six years.

The federal government soon will give the state title to the locks and dams. Ohio also hopes to get $235,000, representing the amount it would cost the government to remove the dams.

The dams create a series of lakes which are used by water sports enthusiasts.

The division wants to spend $500,000 over a six-year period to explore for underground water supplies in Ohio.

The underground water reservoirs were formed by glaciers moving across Ohio. If they can be found, the department says, cost of tapping the cold, silt-free water is much less than that of building reservoirs. The department says they would provide large sources of water safe from enemy bombs.

Chrysler Plant On Strike Over Firing Sweeper

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A strike, which an international representative of the United Auto Workers said grew out of the firing of a sweeper, Tuesday night shut down the Chrysler Corp.'s big Twinsburg plant which employes 1,660.

The first walkout came on the second shift, and picket lines were set up which third-shift workers reporting at 12:30 a.m. refused to cross.

Representatives of Local 122 were not available for comment, but James J. Simone, a UAW international representative, said the men were dissatisfied with the way the company's labor relations office had handled the protest against the firing of the sweeper. A foreman had complained that the discharged employe threatened him, Simone said.

The plant makes auto body parts.

Ohio's Tobacco Farmers Absorb Beating On Crops

Heavy spring and summer rains ruined some crops and damaged others. Worst hit were producers of cigar filler tobacco, planted later than burley.

Russell Handy, chief of the Federal Crop Reporting Service here, said Tuesday that the Sept. 1 crop estimate for cigar filler was 2,960,000 pounds, down considerably from last year's 4,662,000 pounds and well off the 10-year average of 8,560,000 pounds.

This year's yield-per-acre will be about 800 pounds, Handy said, against 1,260 last year and 1,536 for the 10-year average.

The Sept. 1 estimate for burley was 13,950,000 pounds. Last year's crop was 14,523,000 pounds and the 10-year average was 17,099,000 pounds. This year's per-acre-yield for burley is estimated at 1,500 pounds compared to 1,545 pounds last year and the 10-year average of 1,390.

Few Ohio farmers raise tobacco as their main crop. Burley is grown along the Ohio River and cigar filler in southwestern Ohio. Most of the tobacco has been cut and is drying in sheds. It will be sold late in November.

The government supports tobacco prices.

Unbeaten List May Undergo More Cutting

Only five teams from among the district's 17 high schools which participate in football are listed in the thinning ranks of the unbeaten as the third week of participation arrives for Ohio squads and No. 4 for those in nearby West Virginia.

However, at least one of the teams with an unblemished record is expected to fall following the heavy weekend schedule which includes 14 games spread over Friday and Saturday.

Lisbon High's Blue Devils and East Palestine's powerhouse are the only teams with a record not marred with a defeat or a tie in two games and should continue the winning pace this week. New Cumberland and Chester both have won two games without a loss but each have a tie as the result of their 14-14 deadlock in the opening game.

Friday, Lisbon hosts Poland under the lights while East Palestine plays at home also against Leetonia's Polar Bears. While both should extend their win streaks to three games, New Cumberland and Chester both face tough competition and may be dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Chester travels to Wellsville for a night game Friday and will have to be at full strength to win its third game. Fullback Don Shaw, the Panthers' only returning letterman who sat out last week's 27-0 victory over Beaver Local, is expected to be back in uniform for the Wellsville game. In 1957, the Panthers carried a perfect slate to Wellsville and were defeated, 19-13, for one of their two losses of last season.

East Liverpool's Potters will be out for their first win when they host New Philadelphia at Patterson Field Friday night. The Quakers have been defeated in their first two outings, 19-6 by Jackson and 6-0 by Canton Timkem. The Potters battled to a 20-20 tie with Akron St. Vincent in their first game and were dropped by rugged Toledo Libbey last week, 22-6. Toledo was rated 14th in this week's state-wide football poll by Ohio's sportscasters.

Other Friday night games find Beaver playing at Midland and Salem traveling to Canton Timken. Coach John Petchel's Leopards from Midland last week knocked off highly-regarded Steubenville Central Catholic, 13-6, and will be after win No. 2 Friday. Midland battled Beaver Falls to a 6-6 tie in the opening game.

Leading off Saturday's eight-game docket is the Salineville-Beaver Local game with kickoff time at 2 p. m. on the Beaver Local gridiron. Both teams will be after their second victory of the season after being defeated last week by identical scores, 27-0. Salineville lost to Springfield Township in Jefferson County and Beaver Local was turned back by Chester.

Homecoming will be observed at Irondale where Coach Fred Sims gridders will host Mount Pleasant at 2:30 p. m. Irondale dropped it first game, 8-6, to Beaver Local. The Mounties defeated the Irons last year, 19-6.

Unbeaten New Cumberland may find rough going Saturday night when it travels to Weirton for a game with also undefeated Weirton Madonna which has rolled over three straight foes. Coach Charlie Miller's Raiders will definitely be an underdog but may give the Dons a rough battle.

Newell, loser of three straight games while scoring only a single touchdown, meets Wayne High School from Jefferson County Saturday night at Newell. Newell has lost to Weirton Madonna, 60-0, New Cumberland, 39-7, and Hopedale, 12-0.

Other Saturday games find Greenford at United Local, Minerva at Columbiana, South Side at West Greene for an afternoon game at 1:30, and Fairfield - Waterford at North Lima.

Yankees' Speed, Superior Defense May Offset Braves' Better Hitting

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees' speed and defensive excellence may more than nullify Milwaukee's batting superiority in the 1958 World Series.

Center fielder Billy Bruton can no longer run wild on the bases as he did before fracturing his leg last season. Left fielder Wes Covington, another of the Braves' mainstays, has been bothered all year with a pulled leg muscle. Red Schoendienst, 35-year-old second baseman, also has slowed down in the field and on the bases. So has shortstop Johnny Logan.

The Yankees have several fine baserunners from Mickey Mantle on down. Tony Kubek, Hank Bauer, Gil McDougald, Andy Carey and Yogi Berra are some of the others.

The extra base may come in handy in the tight, close-to-the-vest competition this one figures to be.

The Yanks have had 47 stolen bases. Milwaukee has 22. Another pertinent statistic shows the Braves with only 21 triples and New York with 39.

Defensively, the Yankees have the edge down the middle. The double play combination of McDougald and Kubek rates a shade better than Schoendienst and Logan. Mantle is faster and has a stronger throwing arm than Bruton. Catchers Yogi Berra of New York and Del Crandall of Milwaukee are about on a par as fielders.

The Braves have the advantage at first base where Frank Toore figures as a better glove man than Bill Skowron. Covington, the fielding star of last year's series, and rookie Norm Siebern of the Yanks both have had their troubles in left field this season. There are no marked advantages at the other positions.

Aaron, again the big gun, Matews and Covington have accounted for 94 of the Braves' 163 homers. Aaron moved into the .330 bracket after a slow start. Covington and Torre also are well over .300.

West Virginia Drills Behind Closed Doors

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia's football forces continued their practice behind closed doors today and WVU Coach Art (Pappy) Lewis anxiously scanned the weather map.

"I'm sure hoping for cool weather out there," Lewis said in reference to Norman, Okla., site of this Saturday's WVU-Oklahoma gridiron battle.

"We've had about the coolest fall weather up here that I can ever remember," he declared. "That hot weather, it ain't good when you go out and play in Oklahoma. It really gets hot out there. I sure hope the weather's cool there this weekend."

The Mountaineer mentor continued to stress defensive work. He ordered secret workouts yesterday and said visitors would be barred from the drills for the rest of the week. The Mountaineers depart for Oklahoma Friday.

Lewis allowed that the performance of his second unit in the opener against Richmond was a pleasant surprise. "They looked about as good as the first unit," he said, "but we still don't know what we really got. We're still untested."

Lewis, learning that West Virginia was rated No. 13 in the nation by the Associated Press poll, quipped, "I'm not the superstitious type. I don't worry about that number 13. All I hope is that it doesn't get too hot at Oklahoma."

Coaches Take Real, Hard Look At New Grid Rules

The coaching set is beginning to take a real, hard look at them and before the season is over they could develop some comic-opera overtones.

The new extra point rule could provide the most entertainment. It provides that a conversion is worth two points if a team elects to run or pass. If it kicks, it's worth one point.

For example, Clemson Coach Frank Howard is having trouble with his mathematics. After his team went ahead, 20-15 against Virginia (the final score, as it turned out), he went for one point via kick. It missed.

He confessed that he thought for a moment that the score would be 22-15 if it had been good.

"This coaching is getting complicated, isn't it?" he grinned. "A coach will almost have to have an accountant on the bench with the new rule."

Then there is the case of Columbia Coach Buff Donelli. He has a more sobering thought on the state of things in the kicking business.

"Pretty soon," he frowned, "the high schools are going to stop teaching kids kicking because they won't be able to spare the time, and some day we don't have any kickers at all. By then the game will have developed into a hit-or-miss affair. Start running and if there's an opening, pass. If that is adding excitement to the game, I fail to see it."

Almost lost in the hubub of this rule is the new one which permits a player to reenter the game twice in any given quarter. The officials have four cards numbered to 100 and the players are marked off accordingly.

Connecticut Coach Bob Ingalls reported that one of the officials in his game against Springfield last week dropped his cards and they scattered all over the place.

"Our kids returned them," he said sadly. "If they hadn't been sophomores, they probably would have hidden them in their sleeves and we could have gone on from scratch right there."

Johansson's Advanced In Ring Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson of Sweden not only earned the Fighter of the Month award by his quick knockout of Eddie Machen, but the feat has advanced him to No. 1 rating among the challengers for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title.

Johansson replaces Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., in that spot in the Ring magazine's semi-monthly ratings, released today. Folley previously had fought a draw with Machen. He now is ranked second among the challengers, and Machen is dropped to fifth.

In the middleweight class Spider Webb, defeated by Gene Fullmer, dropped from fourth to fifth place, changing positions with France's Charley Humez. Fullmer remained in the No. 2 spot behind Carmen Basilio among the challengers for Ray Robinson's crown.

The welterweight division saw many changes, with Joe Jordan of Los Angeles jumping from seventh place to the No. 1 spot among contenders for Virgil Akins championship. Sugar Hart went from fourth to second, Gil Turner from fifth to fourth. Rudell Stitch of Louisville joined the select circle by gaining the No. 10 position.

Nonpareil Set To Intensify Member Drive

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club made plans to intensify its membership drive and viewed movies of last week's game between the East Liverpool Potters and Toledo Libbey when it met Tuesday night in the YMCA. H. A. Tullis, president, presided.

Dick Forzano and Dick Waggle, co-chairmen of the membership campaign, reported that 180 members have been signed thus far in the drive to sign at least 500. A ticket-selling booth will be set up in front of Milligan's store on 5th St., Saturday morning at 9:30 and members will sell Blue and White Club memberships, the chairmen reported. Plans also call for the ticket booth to be set up at Patterson Field the night of a future football game.

Ralph Musuraca was named chairman of a committee to secure badges urging fans to boost the Potters and also chairman of the reserve game Saturday night at Patterson Field between East Liverpool and Martins Ferry. Kickoff time is 6:45 and the game will be sponsored by the club, it was announced.

Also discussed was sponsorship of the East Junior High and Westgate Junior High School football game and prospects of securing additional loudspeakers for home football games. Tullis also appointed a committee to make plans for the annual trip of the football team to see a professional football game.

Movies of last week's game were screened by head coach Lou Venditti who commended the Potters for their scrappy line play against top-rated Toledo Libbey. He also pointed out the serious lack of depth on the squad and movies revealed that two of the Toledo touchdowns came with varsity men out of the game for a well-earned rest. The Potter lineup at one time included five sophomores, Lou said, while Toledo had only a single sophomore listed on its entire traveling squad.

Venditti was pleased at the fine sportsmanship attitude displayed by both teams and commended fullback Henry Roach for not fumbling in his first varsity assignment this year. Roach replaced fullback Bill O'Neil who sat on the sidelines with an ankle injury.

Venditti discussed prospects for next week's game with New Philadelphia, which lost its first two games, 19-6 to Jackson, and 6-0, to Canton Timken.

The next meeting will be Tuesday night at 8 in the YMCA.

Frick Will Miss Series Start First Time Since 1934

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick will miss the opening of the World Series for the first time since 1934. Frick was resting comfortably today in a New York hospital after undergoing an emergency appendectomy Tuesday.

Mrs. Frick said the commissioner was a little groggy after the surgery, but added: "There were no complications and he's doing fine."

Frick, 63, will miss the series opener for the first time since he was elected National League president 24 years ago. He became baseball commissioner in 1951, succeeding Happy Chandler, and had his contract renewed last year until Sept. 21, 1965. He draws $65,000 yearly.

By R. L. LIDE

Both squirrels and hunters have been scarce in the district.

I have come in contact with only a few hunters while driving around. Some have taken the limit, while others have gone home emptyhanded.

At present, the fall brilliancy of the trees with their brown, red, yellow and orange foliage help the squirrels somewhat. Soon many of the trees will be barren and the squirrels may find it more difficult to go into hiding. Of course, this works both ways, since the squirrels can spot the hunters as well. The nearest woodpecker hole or their fall nests will serve as a refuge for the squirrel.

I BELIEVE the nimrods will be pleased if they continue with fall fishing. The smallmouth bass and rock bass are active in Little Beaver Creek.

Soft craws are tops in bait if you can get them. The old reliable minnows are also being used with good success.

News fish, "skipjacks," are being taken with minnows, as far up the creek as Echo Dell. It is lots of fun to catch them. They can be eaten when cleaned and ground up and made into fish patties. That is the only way I know of to get rid of the bones. I believe they are even bonier than a sucker.

Perch have been biting at Guilford and the quality seems to be improving. I have reports of perch being taken up to 12 inches, although the general pattern seems to be from 7 to 9 inches.

IF ALL the sportsmen could be placed in one barrel in any section of the community, you would find a "rotten" one mixed in with the group.

That seems to be the case in a complaint I had on Sept. 15 from two men fishing at Echo Dell.

They report someone with the smell of alcohol on his breath asked to see their fishing licenses.

Unfortunately, in this case, the law reads you must show your license to any person when requested to do so.

Since this individual is not a game protector, I would suggest that you ask him to show his license first, then produce yours.

In the final analysis, after licenses have been exchanged you should bear in mind that a cold dunking in the cool waters this time of the year has a very sobering effect when under the influences of alcohol. You can use your own judgment.

One thing is sure, game protectors do not operate with alcohol on their breath. That would be one of the surest ways to be dismissed immediately as soon as the boss found out about it.

Also, they work in full uniform so there can be no mistaking their being a conservative officer.

In the meantime, I will have a little talk with the county judge and see if this foolishness cannot be nipped in the bud. Laws are made to be used and not abused.

Unbeaten List May Undergo More Cutting

Only five teams from among the district's 17 high schools which participate in football are listed in the thinning ranks of the unbeaten as the third week of participation arrives for Ohio squads and No. 4 for those in nearby West Virginia.

However, at least one of the teams with an unblemished record is expected to fall following the heavy weekend schedule which includes 14 games spread over Friday and Saturday.

Lisbon High's Blue Devils and East Palestine's powerhouse are the only teams with a record not marred with a defeat or a tie in two games and should continue the winning pace this week. New Cumberland and Chester both have won two games without a loss but each have a tie as the result of their 14-14 deadlock in the opening game.

Friday, Lisbon hosts Poland under the lights while East Palestine plays at home also against Leetonia's Polar Bears. While both should extend their win streaks to three games, New Cumberland and Chester both face tough competition and may be dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten.

Chester travels to Wellsville for a night game Friday and will have to be at full strength to win its third game. Fullback Don Shaw, the Panthers' only returning letterman who sat out last week's 27-0 victory over Beaver Local, is expected to be back in uniform for the Wellsville game. In 1957, the Panthers carried a perfect slate to Wellsville and were defeated, 19-13, for one of their two losses of last season.

East Liverpool's Potters will be out for their first win when they host New Philadelphia at Patterson Field Friday night. The Quakers have been defeated in their first two outings, 19-6 by Jackson and 6-0 by Canton Timkem. The Potters battled to a 20-20 tie with Akron St. Vincent in their first game and were dropped by rugged Toledo Libbey last week, 22-6. Toledo was rated 14th in this week's state-wide football poll by Ohio's sportscasters.

Other Friday night games find Beaver playing at Midland and Salem traveling to Canton Timken. Coach John Petchel's Leopards from Midland last week knocked off highly-regarded Steubenville Central Catholic, 13-6, and will be after win No. 2 Friday. Midland battled Beaver Falls to a 6-6 tie in the opening game.

Leading off Saturday's eight-game docket is the Salineville-Beaver Local game with kickoff time at 2 p. m. on the Beaver Local gridiron. Both teams will be after their second victory of the season after being defeated last week by identical scores, 27-0. Salineville lost to Springfield Township in Jefferson County and Beaver Local was turned back by Chester.

Homecoming will be observed at Irondale where Coach Fred Sims gridders will host Mount Pleasant at 2:30 p. m. Irondale dropped it first game, 8-6, to Beaver Local. The Mounties defeated the Irons last year, 19-6.

Unbeaten New Cumberland may find rough going Saturday night when it travels to Weirton for a game with also undefeated Weirton Madonna which has rolled over three straight foes. Coach Charlie Miller's Raiders will definitely be an underdog but may give the Dons a rough battle.

Newell, loser of three straight games while scoring only a single touchdown, meets Wayne High School from Jefferson County Saturday night at Newell. Newell has lost to Weirton Madonna, 60-0, New Cumberland, 39-7, and Hopedale, 12-0.

Other Saturday games find Greenford at United Local, Minerva at Columbiana, South Side at West Greene for an afternoon game at 1:30, and Fairfield - Waterford at North Lima.

Yankees' Speed, Superior Defense May Offset Braves' Better Hitting

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees' speed and defensive excellence may more than nullify Milwaukee's batting superiority in the 1958 World Series.

Center fielder Billy Bruton can no longer run wild on the bases as he did before fracturing his leg last season. Left fielder Wes Covington, another of the Braves' mainstays, has been bothered all year with a pulled leg muscle. Red Schoendienst, 35-year-old second baseman, also has slowed down in the field and on the bases. So has shortstop Johnny Logan.

The Yankees have several fine baserunners from Mickey Mantle on down. Tony Kubek, Hank Bauer, Gil McDougald, Andy Carey and Yogi Berra are some of the others.

The extra base may come in handy in the tight, close-to-the-vest competition this one figures to be.

The Yanks have had 47 stolen bases. Milwaukee has 22. Another pertinent statistic shows the Braves with only 21 triples and New York with 39.

Defensively, the Yankees have the edge down the middle. The double play combination of McDougald and Kubek rates a shade better than Schoendienst and Logan. Mantle is faster and has a stronger throwing arm than Bruton. Catchers Yogi Berra of New York and Del Crandall of Milwaukee are about on a par as fielders.

The Braves have the advantage at first base where Frank Toore figures as a better glove man than Bill Skowron. Covington, the fielding star of last year's series, and rookie Norm Siebern of the Yanks both have had their troubles in left field this season. There are no marked advantages at the other positions.

Aaron, again the big gun, Mathews and Covington have accounted for 94 of the Braves' 163 homers. Aaron moved into the .330 bracket after a slow start. Covington and Torre also are well over .300.

I BELIEVE the nimrods will be pleased if they continue with fall fishing. The smallmouth bass and rock bass are active in Little Beaver Creek.

Soft craws are tops in bait if you can get them. The old reliable minnows are also being used with good success.

News fish, "skipjacks," are being taken with minnows, as far up the creek as Echo Dell. It is lots of fun to catch them. They can be eaten when cleaned and ground up and made into fish patties. That is the only way I know of to get rid of the bones. I believe they are even bonier than a sucker.

Perch have been biting at Guilford and the quality seems to be improving. I have reports of perch being taken up to 12 inches, although the general pattern seems to be from 7 to 9 inches.

IF ALL the sportsmen could be placed in one barrel in any section of the community, you would find a "rotten" one mixed in with the group.

That seems to be the case in a complaint I had on Sept. 15 from two men fishing at Echo Dell.

They report someone with the smell of alcohol on his breath asked to see their fishing licenses.

Unfortunately, in this case, the law reads you must show your license to any person when requested to do so.

Since this individual is not a game protector, I would suggest that you ask him to show his license first, then produce yours.

In the final analysis, after licenses have been exchanged you should bear in mind that a cold dunking in the cool waters this time of the year has a very sobering effect when under the influences of alcohol. You can use your own judgment.

One thing is sure, game protectors do not operate with alcohol on their breath. That would be one of the surest ways to be dismissed immediately as soon as the boss found out about it.

Also, they work in full uniform so there can be no mistaking their being a conservative officer.

In the meantime, I will have a little talk with the county judge and see if this foolishness cannot be nipped in the bud. Laws are made to be used and not abused.

Yanks Drop 6th Straight, Longest Streak In Over 2 Years

Turley Fails Second Time To Win 22nd

By The Associated Press

In case you haven't noticed, the New York Yankees haven't won a game since the day they clinched the American League pennant more than a week ago.

They've lost six in a row since, their longest losing string in more than two years.

That's not exactly a rip-roarin' way to move into the World Series — which opens a week from today at Milwaukee — but you can't say Manager Casey Stengel is worried. His pitching staff has regrouped in that span, and his Yankees at least got rid of Ted Bowsfield, the pesky rookie southpaw who had beaten them three times, before they lost 9-8 at Boston Tuesday night.

But if there's one Yankee who isn't feeling chipper these days, it has to be Bob Turley — the ALs leading winner who now has failed in two shots at his 22nd victory. The big right-hander may get one more chance, against Baltimore this weekend in the windup of the regular season.

Turley escaped the defeat, but he was battered for five runs in the first inning and was through after Ted Williams hit a two-run homer, his 23rd, in the fourth that tied it 7-all.

Williams also rapped a double and single and received a standing ovation from the fans when he left for a pinch runner in the winning eighth. He drove in four runs, picked up three points for a .317 batting average and apparently made up for that bat flinging incident of Sunday.

Teammate Pete Runnels (2-for-4) upped his AL-leading average to .325 for a seven-point edge over Detroit's Harvey Kuenn who is a point ahead of Williams at .318.

Kuenn was 1-for-5, losing a point, as the Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1. Cleveland retained a third-place tie with Boston and Detroit by beating Kansas City 7-5, and Baltimore defeated Washington 3-2 in the other AL games.

In the National League, Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee's champion Braves 6-5, St. Louis beat Los Angeles 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs defeated San Francisco 3-2 in 10 innings.

Paul Foytack (14-13) nailed his seventh consecutive complete game for the Tigers with a four-hitter. He had a shutout until the eighth. Frank Bolling's 23th homer, a solo shot in the eighth, won it, handing Early Wynn (14-15) the loss.

Randy Jackson's three-run homer in the ninth gave it to the Injuns after the A's had scored five in the first off 16-game winner Cal McLish. Hal Woodeshick (6-6) won it in relief. Dick Tomanek (7-8) lost it.

Southpaw Jack Harshman (12-14) drove in all the Oriole runs with two homers, his fifth and sixth, and a double against loser Pete Ramos (14-16).

Zollinger, treasurer, has requested anyone having Booster Club tickets to attend the meeting so that a financial report can be prepared.

Mays, Ashburn Waging Torrid Batting Title Race

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays and Richie Ashburn are so close in their run for the National League batting title you couldn't push a bunt between them.

At the moment, Willie's ahead by .0003 of a percentage point with a streaking .520 spurt for his last 14 games. Ashburn, batting a mere .424 for the same span, has a .3439 average to Mays' .3442.

Tuesday night, Mays was 3-for-5 against Chicago as the Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants 3-2 in 10 innings. Ashburn was 2-for-4 against Milwaukee as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the champion Braves 6-5.

St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 5-1 in another near-miss at a no-hitter by Sad Sam Jones in the only other NL game scheduled.

In the American League, Boston defeated the champion New York Yankees 9-8, Detroit beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1, Cleveland got past Kansas City 7-5 and Baltimore defeated Washington 3-2.

Mays, getting 200 hits for the first time in his career (Ashburn got his 200th hit Monday) beat out a dribbler in front of the plate, and a slow roller toward third Tuesday night. His other hit was a solid single in the eighth inning—when he went to second on Leon-Wagner's single, stole third and gave the Giants a 2-1 lead on an infield out.

Walt Moryn's 26th home run gave the Cubs a tie in the ninth against loser Stu Miller (6-9), and Ernie Banks then blooped an RBI double that won it in the 10th.

Ashburn, who leads Mays in hits 207 to 201 but has only three games remaining to Willie's four, beat out a bunt that loaded the bases in the eighth and set up Ed Bouchee's winning two-run single off lefty Juan Pizarro (6-4). Bouchee also rapped a first-inning homer, his ninth.

Rookie Jim Owens won his first. Jones (14-12), who was within six outs of his second major league no-hitter when he had to settle for a 9-1 victory over Philadelphia a month ago, was within four outs of getting the job done Tuesday night at Los Angeles Then Junior Gilliam singled off Sam's glove, Bob Lillis followed with a sharp single and rookie Ron Fairly junked the shutout with a double. That was all the hitting the Dodgers did, although Jones needed relief in the ninth when he gave up his sixth and seventh walks. He struck out four for a 220 total.

OSU, Oklahoma, Auburn Are Among Grid Choices

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — They are painting the ceiling in the office and that odor you complain about is turpentine. The stench has absolutely nothing to do with the fact that 16 of 38 guesses last week, in the season debut, were incorrect.

This week's forecast:

Ohio State over Southern Methodist: The bruising Buckeyes have Don Clark and Bob White plus a rugged line. SMU has Don Meredith and some strong ambitions. It could be close if Ohio State is thinking only of Big Ten problems.

Oklahoma over West Virginia: The Mountaineers collared Richmond by 44 points last week. This time they find out how it feels to lose.

Army over South Carolina: Army is having quarterback woes but how can you lose when Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson are healthy?

Washington State over Northwestern: The Cougars may be the best on the West Coast.

Wisconsin over Miami: The margin may be as thin as a palm leaf fan. It is a Friday night encounter.

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

EAST: Columbia over Brown, Cornell over Colgate, Dartmouth over Lafayette, Harvard over Buffalo, Delaware over Lehigh, Boston University over Massachusetts, Penn State over Penn, Princeton Over Rutgers, Syracuse over Boston College, Virginia Military over Villanova, Yale over Connecticut, Pittsburgh over Holy Cross.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Wichita, Colorado over Kansas State, Dayton over Richmond, Drake over Colorado State U, Illinois over UCLA, Missouri over Idaho, Michigan State over California, Ohio University over Toledo, Oklahoma State over North Texas State, Purdue over Nebraska, Minnesota over Washington.

SOUTH: Mississippi over Kentucky, Mississippi State over Florida, LSU over Alabama, The Citadel over George Washington, North Carolina over Clemson, Vanderbilt over Georgia, Wake Forest over Virginia Tech, Duke over Virginia, Maryland over North Carolina State.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Tulsa, Baylor over Hardin Simmons, Houston over Texas A&M. Texas Tech over West Texas State Texas Western over New Mexico

Bowdry Favored By 3-1 Tonight To Outbox Ray

CHICAGO (AP) —Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis, seventh ranking light heavyweight, is a 3-1 favorite tonight to defeat Sonny Ray, the only man ever to beat him.

Bowdry, 20, has lost only twice in 25 fights since turning pro in 1955 following a brilliant Golden Gloves amateur career of 45 victories without defeat, 38 of them by knockouts.

Ray, 22-year-old former railroad worker who learned to box in Chicago gyms, will be in his first main event in the nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) bout in Chicago Stadium. He has a 17-5-5 record and has defeated Bowdry, a stablemate of welterweight champion Virgil Akins, twice in three engagements.

Besmanoff Stops Miteff In First Of 10-Rounder

SEATTLE (AP) — A new manager and several pounds of extra meat are the things that made Willi Besmanoff the tiger who stopped Alex Miteff Tuesday night in a single, gory round.

That's what the Milwaukeean from Germany said. Willi carried a portly 201½ pounds into his scheduled 10-round return bout with the Argentinian, who beat him in their only previous meeting. He gave away 5 pounds — and several acres of leather.

He won the fight when Miteff, bloody and lame, failed to come out for the second round.

The victory earned Besmanoff a bout with Zora Folley, rated among the top heavyweight challengers. Promoter Inigo Lucchesi said Folley had agreed to meet the winner, with terms and date still to be arranged.

Besmanoff said his new manag-

Waterford's Wagering Up 12.4 Per Cent

Wagering at Waterford Park for the first two weeks of the 48-day fall horse racing meeting was 12.4 per cent more than for the same period of 1957.

Track officials related that the first 12 days of racing brought a betting total of $2,702,612, which compares to $2,404,366 for the same 12 days of last year's fall meeting.

Attendance was about the same as a year ago. Waterford officials said 39,978 persons were attracted during the first 12 days, which compared to 40,617 for the same time last year.

Mutuels Manager Jay Mathews reported that a robust 32.62 per cent of all wagering was at the $10 windows. The $2 window got the most play at 42.20 per cent of all the money bet the first two weeks of the meeting.

A featured race today will be the Cadets for three - year - olds, while two major events are on Saturday's program. The Saturday events will be the Youngstown Handicap at a mile and 70 yards and the Sprouts Purse for two-year-olds.

Yanks Drop 6th Straight, Longest Streak In Over 2 Years

Turley Fails Second Time To Win 22nd

By The Associated Press

In case you haven't noticed, the New York Yankees haven't won a game since the day they clinched the American League pennant more than a week ago.

They've lost six in a row since, their longest losing string in more than two years.

That's not exactly a rip-roarin' way to move into the World Series — which opens a week from today at Milwaukee — but you can't say Manager Casey Stengel is worried. His pitching staff has regrouped in that span, and his Yankees at least got rid of Ted Bowsfield, the pesky rookie southpaw who had beaten them three times, before they lost 9-8 at Boston Tuesday night.

But if there's one Yankee who isn't feeling chipper these days, it has to be Bob Turley — the ALs leading winner who now has failed in two shots at his 22nd victory. The big right-hander may get one more chance, against Baltimore this weekend in the windup of the regular season.

Turley escaped the defeat, but he was battered for five runs in the first inning and was through after Ted Williams hit a two-run homer, his 23rd, in the fourth that tied it 7-all.

Williams also rapped a double and single and received a standing ovation from the fans when he left for a pinch runner in the winning eighth. He drove in four runs, picked up three points for a .317 batting average and apparently made up for that bat flinging incident of Sunday.

Teammate Pete Runnels (2-for-4) upped his AL-leading average to .325 for a seven-point edge over Detroit's Harvey Kuenn who is a point ahead of Williams at .318.

Kuenn was 1-for-5, losing a point, as the Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1. Cleveland retained a third-place tie with Boston and Detroit by beating Kansas City 7-5, and Baltimore defeated Washington 3-2 in the other AL games.

In the National League, Philadelphia defeated Milwaukee's champion Braves 6-5, St. Louis beat Los Angeles 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs defeated San Francisco 3-2 in 10 innings.

Paul Foytack (14-13) nailed his seventh consecutive complete game for the Tigers with a four-hitter. He had a shutout until the eighth. Frank Bolling's 23th homer, a solo shot in the eighth, won it, handing Early Wynn (14-15) the loss.

Randy Jackson's three-run homer in the ninth gave it to the Injuns after the A's had scored five in the first off 16-game winner Cal McLish. Hal Woodeshick (6-6) won it in relief. Dick Tomanek (7-8) lost it.

Southpaw Jack Harshman (12-14) drove in all the Oriole runs with two homers, his fifth and sixth, and a double against loser Pete Ramos (14-16).

Mays, Ashburn Waging Torrid Batting Title Race

By The Associated Press

Willie Mays and Richie Ashburn are so close in their run for the National League batting title you couldn't push a bunt between them.

At the moment, Willie's ahead by .0003 of a percentage point with a streaking .520 spurt for his last 14 games. Ashburn, batting a mere .424 for the same span, has a .3439 average to Mays' .3442.

Tuesday night, Mays was 3-for-5 against Chicago as the Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants 3-2 in 10 innings. Ashburn was 2-for-4 against Milwaukee as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the champion Braves 6-5.

St. Louis defeated Los Angeles 5-1 in another near-miss at a no-hitter by Sad Sam Jones in the only other NL game scheduled.

In the American League, Boston defeated the champion New York Yankees 9-8, Detroit beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1, Cleveland got past Kansas City 7-5 and Baltimore defeated Washington 3-2.

Mays, getting 200 hits for the first time in his career (Ashburn got his 200th hit Monday) beat out a dribbler in front of the plate, and a slow roller toward third Tuesday night. His other hit was a solid single in the eighth inning—when he went to second on Leon-Wagner's single, stole third and gave the Giants a 2-1 lead on an infield out.

Walt Moryn's 26th home run gave the Cubs a tie in the ninth against loser Stu Miller (6-9), and Ernie Banks then blooped an RBI double that won it in the 10th.

Ashburn, who leads Mays in hits 207 to 201 but has only three games remaining to Willie's four, beat out a bunt that loaded the bases in the eighth and set up Ed Bouchee's winning two-run single off lefty Juan Pizarro (6-4). Bouchee also rapped a first-inning homer, his ninth.

Rookie Jim Owens won his first. Jones (14-12), who was within six outs of his second major league no-hitter when he had to settle for a 9-1 victory over Philadelphia a month ago, was within four outs of getting the job done Tuesday night at Los Angeles Then Junior Gilliam singled off Sam's glove, Bob Lillis followed with a sharp single and rookie Ron Fairly junked the shutout with a double. That was all the hitting the Dodgers did, although Jones needed relief in the ninth when he gave up his sixth and seventh walks. He struck out four for a 220 total.

Johnny Podres 13-15 lost it.

OSU, Oklahoma, Auburn Are Among Grid Choices

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — They are painting the ceiling in the office and that odor you complain about is turpentine. The stench has absolutely nothing to do with the fact that 16 of 38 guesses last week, in the season debut, were incorrect.

This week's forecast:

Ohio State over Southern Methodist: The bruising Buckeyes have Don Clark and Bob White plus a rugged line. SMU has Don Meredith and some strong ambitions. It could be close if Ohio State is thinking only of Big Ten problems.

Oklahoma over West Virginia: The Mountaineers collared Richmond by 44 points last week. This time they find out how it feels to lose.

Michigan over Southern California: Things, supposedly aren't as good at Michigan as they once were, but there should be enough left to handle the Trojans.

Army over South Carolina: Army is having quarterback woes but how can you lose when Pete Dawkins and Bob Anderson are healthy?

Washington State over Northwestern: The Cougars may be the best on the West Coast.

Wisconsin over Miami: The margin may be as thin as a palm leaf fan. It is a Friday night encounter.

Notre Dame over Indiana: No danger to the Irish in this one.

FRIDAY

SATURDAY

EAST: Columbia over Brown, Cornell over Colgate, Dartmouth over Lafayette, Harvard over Buffalo, Delaware over Lehigh, Boston University over Massachusetts, Penn State over Penn, Princeton Over Rutgers, Syracuse over Boston College, Virginia Military over Villanova, Yale over Connecticut, Pittsburgh over Holy Cross.

MIDWEST: Cincinnati over Wichita, Colorado over Kansas State, Dayton over Richmond, Drake over Colorado State U, Illinois over UCLA, Missouri over Idaho, Michigan State over California, Ohio University over Toledo, Oklahoma State over North Texas State, Purdue over Nebraska, Minnesota over Washington.

SOUTH: Mississippi over Kentucky, Mississippi State over Florida, LSU over Alabama, The Citadel over George Washington, North Carolina over Clemson, Vanderbilt over Georgia, Wake Forest over Virginia Tech, Duke over Virginia, Maryland over North Carolina State.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Tulsa, Baylor over Hardin Simmons, Houston over Texas A&M. Texas Tech over West Texas State Texas Western over New Mexico

Bowdry Favored By 3-1 Tonight To Outbox Ray

CHICAGO (AP) —Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis, seventh ranking light heavyweight, is a 3-1 favorite tonight to defeat Sonny Ray, the only man ever to beat him.

Bowdry, 20, has lost only twice in 25 fights since turning pro in 1955 following a brilliant Golden Gloves amateur career of 45 victories without defeat, 38 of them by knockouts.

Ray, 22-year-old former railroad worker who learned to box in Chicago gyms, will be in his first main event in the nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) bout in Chicago Stadium. He has a 17-5-5 record and has defeated Bowdry, a stablemate of welterweight champion Virgil Akins, twice in three engagements.

Besmanoff Stops Miteff In First Of 10-Rounder

SEATTLE (AP) — A new manager and several pounds of extra meat are the things that made Willi Besmanoff the tiger who stopped Alex Miteff Tuesday night in a single, gory round.

That's what the Milwaukeean from Germany said. Willi carried a portly 201½ pounds into his scheduled 10-round return bout with the Argentinian, who beat him in their only previous meeting. He gave away 5 pounds — and several acres of leather.

He won the fight when Miteff, bloody and lame, failed to come out for the second round.

The victory earned Besmanoff a bout with Zora Folley, rated among the top heavyweight challengers. Promoter Inigo Lucchesi said Folley had agreed to meet the winner, with terms and date still to be arranged.

Besmanoff said his new manag-

Speeding Auto Hits Steel Rig And Explodes

A 100-mile-an-hour jaunt of an Alliance man, which included sideswiping two cars and going through two red traffic signals, ended with a grinding crash into an oncoming tractor - trailer truck at Washingtonville Tuesday night.

Paullin, who suffered an arm bruise, swerved the front of the rig toward the side of Route 14, but the car crashed into the rear wheels, knocking them from under the tractor. The car slid beneath the trailer and forced the tandem wheels out of line, police said.

Patrolman Robert Bertolette of Washingtonville said witnesses reported Johnson's car seemed to "blow up" with the impact. The crash spilled the rig's 16 tons of steel coils and cables on the roadway and traffic was detoured over High St. for five hours while the debris was cleared way by volunteers.

Police said Johnson went through two traffic signals in Columbiana and forced three cars off the road, traveling at times at speeds estimated at 100 miles an hour.

His car sideswiped another driven by Margaret Wilson of Washingtonville on Route 14 and later smashed the entire left side of a car driven by Ford Dilworth of Salem. About 2,000 feet west of this sideswiping, Johnson's car hit the rig, causing about $12,000 damage to the trailer and $3,000 to the tractor.

Bertolette said Johnson faces two charges of failure to halt at the scene of an accident along with citations for reckless operation and driving left of center.

Columbiana police and the State Highway Patrol said they may file other charges.

Board To End Voting Signup

Deadline Tonight; 500 More Expected

Five hundred more voters may enroll, pushing East Liverpool registration to an 18-year high of about 11,700, before the deadline falls tonight at 10 for qualifying for the Nov. 4 general election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, said the staff expects the usual last-minute rush of registrants at its office on W. 6th St. A total of 171 signed Tuesday, pushing registration to 11,266.

The total at the end of registration tonight is expected to be the highest since the November 1940 Presidential election, when a record 12,642 enrolled, O'Hanlon said. After the deadline tonight, registration books will be closed until 10 days after the general election.

"We won't hit the 1940 record because of the postwar migration outside the city to residential districts in St. Clair and Liverpool Townships," O'Hanlon commented. "But the last day of registration generally is the busiest. Several came in as soon as we opened the doors at 9 this morning."

The staff will start work Monday on compiling the printing precinct registers — an alphabetical list of all qualified voters by precincts. The law requires that the lists will be posted in the usual voting places at least 12 days before the election. The board expects to complete the job in a week to 10 days.

Police To Cite Bottle-Toters At Grid Games

Because of repeated complaints to city officials, police have been instructed to crack down on bottle - toters and public drinking at home football games at Patterson Field, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti and Chief Americo Radeschi said in a joint warning today.

The director said the practice will be halted by cracking down under a state law that provides a fine of $50 for possessing an open whisky bottle in a public place.

"We won't let this type of conduct go unchallenged," he said. "In my book, anyone who will drink in front of children is not a good sport — he is the worst kind of sport."

The director said he has been advised that many whisky bottles have been found abandoned in the restrooms at the stadium, indicating the extent of drinking at the games. He said use of intoxicants on the part of adults is a factor behind use of foul language and the outbreak of scuffles.

Chief Radeschi said he has issued orders for arrest of drinkers and bottle - toters, adding the violators will be taken into Municipal Court under the state law.

Director Gives New Reminder On Safety Of School Children

Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti today reiterated a warning to children to follow safety rules when walking to and from schools and tacked on a reminder to motorists to be especially watchful for youngsters in school zones, at intersections or dashing into the streets while at play.

"Parents should remind their children to cross streets only at places where there are adult guards or schoolboy patrols or a traffic signal," the director said. "If it is necessary for them to cross where there is no safety facility, they should make certain the way is clear before stepping off the curb."

Parents also should remind their children not to step into the street from between two parked cars and to guard against playing in streets, Maggianetti added.

"If you must walk on a roadway where there is no sidewalk, be certain to face oncoming traffic," the director warned. "At night, you should wear some light colored article of clothing or carry a white object like a handkerchief that will stand out in headlights."

He also appealed to motorists to observe speed limits, particularly the 20 - mile top speed in school zones.

"Drivers should be especially careful at times when youngsters are going to and from school," he said. "They also should watch out for children at play after school dismissal."

"If children and motorists alike would practice courtesy, I think it would be the solution," the director said. "Courtesy is contagious."

Public Meeting Set To Discuss Needs For Levy

LISBON — A public meeting to discuss the need of the two-tenths mill levy for the general health district in Columbiana County will be held Monday at 8:30 p. m. at St. George's Parish Hall here. The issue will be on the Nov. 4 ballot.

The meeting is sponsored by the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council to promote the levy.

The program will begin with a film, "Guardians of Health." Donald Elliott of Rogers will speak on the legal aspects of the levy, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and Howard M. State Orders Closing Of Track Barbershop

Immature horse pickers still can get "clipped" at Waterford Park Race Track, but not in a new grandstand barbershop that started operations when the current fall meeting got under way.

Newell barbers who filed complaints with the State Health Department in Charleston said they were advised officially of the closing of the barbershop Tuesday by State Inspector Lynn Hoy on grounds the shop had no permit and the two barbers — Maryland residents — were not licensed.

Speeding Auto Hits Steel Rig And Explodes

A 100-mile-an-hour jaunt of an Alliance man, which included sideswiping two cars and going through two red traffic signals, ended with a grinding crash into an oncoming tractor - trailer truck at Washingtonville Tuesday night.

Paullin, who suffered an arm bruise, swerved the front of the rig toward the side of Route 14, but the car crashed into the rear wheels, knocking them from under the tractor. The car slid beneath the trailer and forced the tandem wheels out of line, police said.

Patrolman Robert Bertolette of Washingtonville said witnesses reported Johnson's car seemed to "blow up" with the impact. The crash spilled the rig's 16 tons of steel coils and cables on the roadway and traffic was detoured over High St. for five hours while the debris was cleared way by volunteers.

Police said Johnson went through two traffic signals in Columbiana and forced three cars off the road, traveling at times at speeds estimated at 100 miles an hour.

His car sideswiped another driven by Margaret Wilson of Washingtonville on Route 14 and later smashed the entire left side of a car driven by Ford Dilworth of Salem. About 2,000 feet west of this sideswiping, Johnson's car hit the rig, causing about $12,000 damage to the trailer and $3,000 to the tractor.

Bertolette said Johnson faces two charges of failure to halt at the scene of an accident along with citations for reckless operation and driving left of center.

Columbiana police and the State Highway Patrol said they may file other charges.

Board To End Voting Signup

Deadline Tonight; 500 More Expected

Five hundred more voters may enroll, pushing East Liverpool registration to an 18-year high of about 11,700, before the deadline falls tonight at 10 for qualifying for the Nov. 4 general election.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, said the staff expects the usual last-minute rush of registrants at its office on W. 6th St. A total of 171 signed Tuesday, pushing registration to 11,266.

The total at the end of registration tonight is expected to be the highest since the November 1940 Presidential election, when a record 12,642 enrolled, O'Hanlon said. After the deadline tonight, registration books will be closed until 10 days after the general election.

"We won't hit the 1940 record because of the postwar migration outside the city to residential districts in St. Clair and Liverpool Townships," O'Hanlon commented. "But the last day of registration generally is the busiest. Several came in as soon as we opened the doors at 9 this morning."

The staff will start work Monday on compiling the printing precinct registers — an alphabetical list of all qualified voters by precincts. The law requires that the lists will be posted in the usual voting places at least 12 days before the election. The board expects to complete the job in a week to 10 days.

Police To Cite Bottle-Toters At Grid Games

Because of repeated complaints to city officials, police have been instructed to crack down on bottle - toters and public drinking at home football games at Patterson Field, Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti and Chief Americo Radeschi said in a joint warning today.

The director said the practice will be halted by cracking down under a state law that provides a fine of $50 for possessing an open whisky bottle in a public place.

"We won't let this type of conduct go unchallenged," he said. "In my book, anyone who will drink in front of children is not a good sport — he is the worst kind of sport."

The director said he has been advised that many whisky bottles have been found abandoned in the restrooms at the stadium, indicating the extent of drinking at the games. He said use of intoxicants on the part of adults is a factor behind use of foul language and the outbreak of scuffles.

Chief Radeschi said he has issued orders for arrest of drinkers and bottle - toters, adding the violators will be taken into Municipal Court under the state law.

Director Gives New Reminder On Safety Of School Children

Safety - Service Director Dan Maggianetti today reiterated a warning to children to follow safety rules when walking to and from schools and tacked on a reminder to motorists to be especially watchful for youngsters in school zones, at intersections or dashing into the streets while at play.

"Parents should remind their children to cross streets only at places where there are adult guards or schoolboy patrols or a traffic signal," the director said. "If it is necessary for them to cross where there is no safety facility, they should make certain the way is clear before stepping off the curb."

Parents also should remind their children not to step into the street from between two parked cars and to guard against playing in streets, Maggianetti added.

"If you must walk on a roadway where there is no sidewalk, be certain to face oncoming traffic," the director warned. "At night, you should wear some light colored article of clothing or carry a white object like a handkerchief that will stand out in headlights."

He also appealed to motorists to observe speed limits, particularly the 20 - mile top speed in school zones.

"Drivers should be especially careful at times when youngsters are going to and from school," he said. "They also should watch out for children at play after school dismissal."

"If children and motorists alike would practice courtesy, I think it would be the solution," the director said. "Courtesy is contagious."

Public Meeting Set To Discuss Needs For Levy

LISBON — A public meeting to discuss the need of the two-tenths mill levy for the general health district in Columbiana County will be held Monday at 8:30 p. m. at St. George's Parish Hall here. The issue will be on the Nov. 4 ballot.

The meeting is sponsored by the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council to promote the levy.

The program will begin with a film, "Guardians of Health." Donald Elliott of Rogers will speak on the legal aspects of the levy, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and Howard M. Cole of Lisbon, president of the Board of Health, will explain the work of the department, the reasons for the levy and the plans ahead. James L. McBride, county school superintendent, will discuss the school health program and Mrs. Violet Peterson of East Palestine a county health nurse, will tell how Unity Township has organized to place the levy information before its residents.

Brief group sessions will follow in which representatives of various communities will discuss methods of presenting the facts concerning the health department and the levy. State Orders Closing Of Track Barbershop

Immature horse pickers still can get "clipped" at Waterford Park Race Track, but not in a new grandstand barbershop that started operations when the current fall meeting got under way.

Perry's Good Bet To Crack Rushing Mark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe Perry, the San Francisco 49ers' explosive fullback, is a good bet to set a new National Football League ground gaining record Sunday in the pro season's opener with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Now just 69 yards short of the 5,860 lifetime rushing total amassed by Steve Van Burein in eight seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles, Perry said matter of factly today:

Joe, at 31 is starting his ninth NFL season after two earlier years in the old All-America Conference.

He said he hadn't been thinking or talking about a new league rushing record.

"If it comes about, fine. But the individual records aren't important. The main thing," Perry said, "is winning the ball game."

On the form he's shown in preseason exhibition games, Perry could ran up a hard-to-beat lifetime rushing total in what he has said will be his final year in pro football.

One of the league's masters of the trap play breaking through center, Joe rolled up 1,018 yards in 1953 and 1,049 in 1954.

Leads Field By Big Margin

Sen. Kennedy's Favorite At Dixie Governors Parley

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Judging from what they're saying about Sen. John Kennedy at the Southern Governors Conference today, you would think he was Dixie-born, a descendant of Robert E. Lee, and a man who eats hominy grits and corn pone three times a day.

"The South likes Kennedy," said Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia.

"He's got a lot of friends down our way," said Mississippi's James P. Coleman.

"I find more favor for Kennedy than any other one person," said Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida. "Basically, Florida Democrats feel he's a good prospect to win, he's sound, and he has the qualifications."

What about the religious factor? Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. Would this cost him votes in the heavily Protestant Southern states?

Southerners reply with a vigorous "No."

They say religious feeling has evaporated in the South to a point where it is no longer a major political consideration.

"I'll put it this way," said Tennessee's Frank Clement, "I hope that no member of my own family would vote against a man because of his religion, be he Catholic, Protestant or Jewish."

Kennedy has been working hard in the Southern states for more than a year. He has traveled continually, accepted innumerable invitations to speak. He seems to have made a highly favorable impression.

Young Asks Bricker Opinion On Alleged Bribe In TV Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, Stephen M. Young, has asked his Republican opponent to comment on allegations that a bribe was solicited and undue pressure exerted in a contest for a Pittsburgh television channel.

His questions were directed at Sen. John W. Bricker.

The House Committee on Legislative Oversight received a report Tuesday that a former Federal Communications Commission chairman solicited a bribe. No names were named.

George C. McConnaughey, who resigned from the FCC on June 30, 1957, after serving as chairman since 1954, said in Columbus that he had talked to a committee investigator about the Pittsburgh channel 4 case.

McConnaughey, a lawyer, denied that he ever "solicited money or law business or anything else from anyone in the Pittsburgh case or any other case."

McConnaughey, Young declared, "is the responsibility of his longtime friend and political associate, Sen. John W. Bricker. It was Bricker who secured his appointment to the FCC."

Testimony by investigator Oliver Eastland before a House subcommittee also related that an official of a corporation owning one of the applicants for the TV channel "had an audience with a former member of the commission, which audience was arranged at the request of a U.S. senator eight days after the oral argument."

Young announced today formation of an Ohio Republicans for Young Committee. Arthur Krause of Cleveland, a former assistant attorney general with Bricker and a former common pleas and municipal judge, will be chairman.

West Point PTA Presents Officers

WEST POINT — Officers, committee chairmen and teachers were introduced by Mrs. Dorothy Smith, president, at the first meeting of the term for the Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night. Some 50 attended.

The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag. Homeroom mothers were selected.

Miss Elsie Crawford, principal, spoke on the change to just four grades for the school this term. Urban Petros spoke on sports and the success that comes when teachers and parents work together.

Phyllis Frantz read a poem she wrote, "Little Boys." Reading circle books will be purchased by the PTA this year and the fund-raising fall festival has been set for Thursday, Oct. 23.

Mrs. Steffen's first grade won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by the officers, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Ann Klembara, vice president; Mrs. Florence Phillips, secretary, and Mrs. Venie Walski, treasurer.

The next meeting will be Oct. 20.

Cub Scouts To Hold Farewell For Rector

Ray Oliver, cubmaster, said the meeting of Cub Scout Pack 33 of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Thursday night will be a farewell party for the Rev. Frederick T. Gillette, who is leaving after Oct. 1 for a post in North Dakota.

All cubs, parents and friends are invited to the event in appreciation of Rev. Gillette's work with the pack. It will be at 7:30 in the Parish Hall.

Lawrence J. Zollinger, institutional director, said the meeting was changed to Thursday from Friday because of the football game.

Youth, 17, Held In Fire Death Of His Father

The youth admitted to authorities Tuesday that he hit his father over the head with a piece of lumber, then set fire to a barn at their home two miles west of nearby Greenwich. Bauerle's remains were discovered in the burned barn a few hours after the blaze had destroyed the structure Monday.

Deputy State Fire Inspector Glen Shiverdecker quoted young Bauerle as saying he had planned the fire for two or three months. The youth gave no motive.

Shiverdecker said James admitted under questioning that he called his father to the barn, hit him on the head, then tossed a match into hay he had previously soaked with fuel oil.

Ohio Voter Signup Indicates Record Turnout On Nov. 4

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Voter registration is rapidly building up to what looks like a record turnout fro the Nov. 4 election.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicts a larger registration turnout than the 3,137,000 recorded in the presidential election year of 1956. A record 3,761,322 went to the polls that year, including voters from counties not requiring registration.

Registration usually declines in non - presidential years, Brown said Tuesday. The thing that's bringing it up this year, he said, is the proposed amendment to the Ohio Constitution regulating labor contracts.

Sen. Kennedy's Favorite At Dixie Governors Parley

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Judging from what they're saying about Sen. John Kennedy at the Southern Governors Conference today, you would think he was Dixie-born, a descendant of Robert E. Lee, and a man who eats hominy grits and corn pone three times a day.

Kennedy, a Yankee from Massachusetts, is that popular in the South, so they say.

"The South likes Kennedy," said Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia.

"He's got a lot of friends down our way," said Mississippi's James P. Coleman.

"I find more favor for Kennedy than any other one person," said Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida. "Basically, Florida Democrats feel he's a good prospect to win, he's sound, and he has the qualifications."

What about the religious factor? Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. Would this cost him votes in the heavily Protestant Southern states?

Southerners reply with a vigorous "No."

They say religious feeling has evaporated in the South to a point where it is no longer a major political consideration.

"I'll put it this way," said Tennessee's Frank Clement, "I hope that no member of my own family would vote against a man because of his religion, be he Catholic, Protestant or Jewish."

Kennedy has been working hard in the Southern states for more than a year. He has traveled continually, accepted innumerable invitations to speak. He seems to have made a highly favorable impression.

Young Asks Bricker Opinion On Alleged Bribe In TV Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, Stephen M. Young, has asked his Republican opponent to comment on allegations that a bribe was solicited and undue pressure exerted in a contest for a Pittsburgh television channel.

His questions were directed at Sen. John W. Bricker.

The House Committee on Legislative Oversight received a report Tuesday that a former Federal Communications Commission chairman solicited a bribe. No names were named.

George C. McConnaughey, who resigned from the FCC on June 30, 1957, after serving as chairman since 1954, said in Columbus that he had talked to a committee investigator about the Pittsburgh channel 4 case.

McConnaughey, a lawyer, denied that he ever "solicited money or law business or anything else from anyone in the Pittsburgh case or any other case."

McConnaughey, Young declared, "is the responsibility of his longtime friend and political associate, Sen. John W. Bricker. It was Bricker who secured his appointment to the FCC."

Testimony by investigator Oliver Eastland before a House subcommittee also related that an official of a corporation owning one of the applicants for the TV channel "had an audience with a former member of the commission, which audience was arranged at the request of a U.S. senator eight days after the oral argument."

Young urged that Bricker indicate whether he is the senator referred to.

Young announced today formation of an Ohio Republicans for Young Committee. Arthur Krause of Cleveland, a former assistant attorney general with Bricker and a former common pleas and municipal judge, will be chairman.

All cubs, parents and friends are invited to the event in appreciation of Rev. Gillette's work with the pack. It will be at 7:30 in the Parish Hall.

Youth, 17, Held In Fire Death Of His Father

The youth admitted to authorities Tuesday that he hit his father over the head with a piece of lumber, then set fire to a barn at their home two miles west of nearby Greenwich. Bauerle's remains were discovered in the burned barn a few hours after the blaze had destroyed the structure Monday.

Deputy State Fire Inspector Glen Shiverdecker quoted young Bauerle as saying he had planned the fire for two or three months. The youth gave no motive.

Shiverdecker said James admitted under questioning that he called his father to the barn, hit him on the head, then tossed a match into hay he had previously soaked with fuel oil.

Ohio Voter Signup Indicates Record Turnout On Nov. 4

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Voter registration is rapidly building up to what looks like a record turnout fro the Nov. 4 election.

Tens of thousands showed up at county registration boards Tuesday. Thousands more are expected to get their names down before today's deadline ends.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicts a larger registration turnout than the 3,137,000 recorded in the presidential election year of 1956. A record 3,761,322 went to the polls that year, including voters from counties not requiring registration.

Registration usually declines in non - presidential years, Brown said Tuesday. The thing that's bringing it up this year, he said, is the proposed amendment to the Ohio Constitution regulating labor contracts.
